Fire Destroyed a Laundry and Residence Last Night Causing a Loss of Two Thousand Dollars.

Nearest Hydrant Was Three Blocks Away and Nothing Could Be Done to Save the Building.

Pete McDonald Turned State Evidence at Hastings and May Get Off—Other News.

The hand laundry and residence of John Melin, on Eleventh avenue west was completely destroyed by fire last night, about 7 o'clock. The building is located at such a distance from the business portion of the town that the fire had gained great headway before an alarm was turned in at the city hall. When the department arrived at the scene it was found that the nearest hydrant was three blocks away and there was insufficient hose to cover the distance.

The fire is supposed to have originated in the upper portion of the residence part from a heater stove. A portion of the furniture and laundry machinery was saved but through an oversight some valuable papers were lost. Mr. Melin estimated his loss at nearly $2000 with no insurance.

Turned State's Evidence.

Capt. Doyle, of the police department, returned yesterday from Hastings, Minn., where he was summoned to give testimony at the trial of Belanger and Pete McDonald, who were arrested for robbing a store and committing other crimes at that place. McDonald is a West Duluth boy who has been implicated in various kinds of robberies since he left here and finally found himself behind the bars at Hastings. He has turned state's evidence and Capt. Doyle thinks he will get clear through his youth and his assistance in convicting Belanger of his misdeeds.

Will Soon Be Completed.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather work is progressing finely on the new fire alarm and police patrol system. A crew of thirty-five men is at work under the supervision of Chief Neary, of Duluth. The poles on Grand avenue are all in and the greater portion of those on Norton street are also in place. The remainder to be erected on Norton street and the extras will add about ninety to this number. Both fire and police boxes are now in Duluth and it is expected that the system will be completed about Jan. 1.

West Duluth Briefs.

The funeral of Mrs. Curo, mother of John Curo, took place yesterday and the body was interred in the Central cemetery. The deceased lived at Mason, Wis., and was brought here for burial.

Misses Maggie and Nellie Murray are visiting friends in Ironwood, Mich. The Odd Fellows will install officers tomorrow evening at the hall on Central avenue. The ceremonies will be attended with a banquet and social amenities and the members of the order are anticipating a jolly good time.

The health officer reports ten deaths for the past month, none of which resulted from contagious disease.

THOMAS A. KEEFER DEAD.

A well known Port Arthur man's sudden death.

A week ago last Saturday night Thomas A. Keefer, of Port Arthur, was sitting up with Robert Maitland, and at daylight helped to perform the last kind offices for the dead, for that gentleman. On the following Thursday at midnight Mr. Keefer followed his old friend to that bourne from which no traveler returns. Grip, followed by pneumonia, caused his death.

Mr. Keefer, who was known to many in Duluth, was about 47 years of age, and was a widower, his wife having died a year ago. He had been a resident of Port Arthur for some ten years, previously residing in Toronto and Strathroy. He was instrumental in attracting much attention to the Port Arthur silver district than any man in it. He was for many years Dominion fisheries inspector there. His summer residence was at his farm on Pie Island, and he wintered in Port Arthur.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Chief Jackson's First Report—Thomas O'Connor Has Resigned.

The fire commissioners held their regular monthly meeting Saturday afternoon and Chief Jackson made his first monthly report. The document states that during the month of December eighteen fires occurred in the city and that property to the value of $135,800 was destroyed with $87,455 insurance. The chief also recommended that 3000 feet of new hose be purchased, so that each company may have its full amount, which is not now the case.

The fire warden reported that there was great negligence among those in tenement houses in regard to stopping up stovepipe holes with paper and straw and in leaving combustible rubbish on ash piles.

Electrician Narey reported that the new fire alarm boxes for West Duluth have arrived and that by Jan. 20 he expects to have them in working order. The alarm system throughout the city is in good working order.

A GRAVE CHARGE.

A. B. Miner Languishes in Jail and Must Answer to Attempted Rape.

A. B. Miner, a carpenter, whose place of abode has been at the City hotel, commences his new year in jail. The cause of it is due to Mrs. Robinson, a colored woman who lives at First avenue west and Second street, who charges the prisoner with attempted rape on her 12-year-old daughter Cora. About three weeks ago, it is claimed, the officer on the First street beat caught Miner in a compromising position with the girl in the carpenter shop at 21 West First street. The girl claimed that she had been enticed there under promise of a doll. Mrs. Robinson at the time refused to enter complaint but on Thursday the girl Cora came home from the skating rink and stated that Miner had chased her and her younger sister and had threatened to kill her. Saturday, Mrs. Robinson made complaint as above stated and Miner now awaits arraignment.

WON THE HOUSE AND LOT.

C. Williams the Fortune Winner in M. S. Burrows & Co.'s Drawing.

The big drawing at the Great Eastern clothing store for the $2500 house and lot which M. S. Burrows gave away took place today at 11 o'clock. There was an immense crowd of people outside the big show window and the street was blocked for an hour or more. The drawing was conducted in the presence of a committee of newspaper men and could be witnessed from the street by the entire crowd. A little girl blindfolded drew the tickets and about 12.10 o'clock drew out No. 2507, the winning ticket. It was held by C. Williams who will now receive a deed for the house and lot.

MELLO BADLY WOUNDED.

Report That He Was Struck By a Piece of a Shell.

New York, Jan. 1.—The Herald's Montevideo cable says: It is reported in this city that the Brazilian rebel, Admiral Mello, has been seriously wounded and will soon come here in order to have his injuries attended to. It is surmised that a fragment of a shell must have struck him, when the Aquidana was escaping from the harbor at Rio and had run the gauntlet of the loyal forts at the entrance.

An Elephant Ran Riot.

New Orleans, Jan. 1.—An elephant which arrived here yesterday, intended for a local circus, broke loose and ran riot through the streets, inflicting considerable damage to property and causing many bruises, knocking over several show windows. He was finally overtaken and captured, two miles from where he started on his romp.

Earthquake in England.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—Three shocks of earthquake were felt Saturday night at Sonersstire. One between 11.30 and 1 a. m. was especially noticeable. It was accompanied by rumbling noises and in the Shepton-Mallet district aroused many persons from sleep. Beds were rocked and furniture and crockery displaced.

Escaped From the Natives.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 1.—Advices received today from Bulawayo say that native runners who have arrived there state positively that a portion of the force of Capt. Wilson, reports of the massacre of the Matabele have been current for some time, escaped from the natives and fled in the direction of the Hattley hills.

FELL BY THE WAYSIDE.

World's Fair Enterprises That Did Not Make Money.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—I have been making an inspection of the theatrical battlefield and in a tender, sympathetic way looking after the victims that have fallen during and since the opening of the World's fair, the 1st of May. The review has been startling, even to me, and I had noted the fate of each as he fell. The mortality list must begin with Steele Mackaye and his great Spectatorium scheme—which, however, was never materialized. Steele is probably the most nervous drummer the theatrical profession ever knew, and his ex-Spectatorium vision was his crowning achievement in this line. A few moments of sensible thought would have convinced any ordinary business man that there could not possibly be any profit in his scheme to build the most gigantic theater the world had ever known, which could be operated for no longer than six months had it been completed on time. That there was bound to be a loss was as plain as the nose on his face.

STEELE MACKAYE.

Still, Mackaye talked his plans so plausibly into the ears of several prominent and wealthy Chicagoans that they walked right up to his office in the Auditorium and laid great stacks of greenbacks into his upturned palms, in return for which they carried away Spectatorium stock. The building of the great theater began. Had it been completed, it would have been more ornate in design and finish than any of the fairy structures on the exposition grounds.

Its materials were a framework of steel—the sides and immense arches of the roof—wood and staff, which is a sort of white plaster that gives a building the appearance of a marble structure, very like the fair buildings. But after $300,000 had been expended and the building was well advanced, it could not be completed before the middle of August instead of May 1, as had been expected, and even then only by the expenditure of $200,000 more. The stockholders' eyes were opened, and they saw that their money was hopelessly sunk. They refused to advance more funds, and the enterprise was given up. At last a house wrecking company was paid a substantial sum to remove the building, and with the exception of the steel framework, which was designed to seat an audience of 30,000 persons, and across the stage of which it was intended to have run a river of real water 50 feet wide and 19 feet deep.

Next in importance came a novel enterprise called Hardy's Underground theater. A splendidly proportioned lot was secured, the owner taking stock for his pay, and the building went up. The project of this was to have a number of underground theaters, their stages one below the other. The audiences were to be carried in a body on a gigantic hydraulic elevator from one show to another until the last one, down in the bowels of the earth, was reached. A revolving panorama was to be unrolled between the various stages as the audience descended, heightening the effect so as to make it seem as if the descent was to a vast depth.

Well, the project was abandoned in June announced that they had struck a pocket of quicksand in excavating, but hoped to get through it safely. They never made another announcement and I have always suspected that the flaw was in another kind of "pocket." The project was a body on a gigantic hydraulic elevator from one show to another until the last one, down in the bowels of the earth, was reached.

To Make Football Less Brutal.

There has been so much public clamor against the brutality of football as it is now played that the game will be materially modified before the next season opens. Prominent ex-football players who have great influence over the college teams have been agitating the matter quietly, with a view to making the game more open and interesting to look at, and at the same time to remove the brutal features in the shape of flying wedges, mass plays and rough interference.

A Committee Consisting of Recognized Football Authorities from Harvard, Yale, Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania will soon be appointed, and it is proposed to change the present rules of the Intercollegiate Football association. It is possible that the committee will consist of Walter Camp, Billy Rhodes and Josh Harris of Yale; Billy Brooks, George Stewart and Arthur Cunnock of Harvard; Tracy Harris, Alex Moffat and Phil King of Princeton; and George Woodruff and ex-Captain H. A. Mackey of the University of Pennsylvania.

No Work, No Rent.

A Boston dispatch of recent date contained the following: "We will pay no work to rent until we find regular employment." Such was the unanimous declaration of 400 or more unemployed mechanics, who crowded into Columbian hall to discuss their condition and devise means of relief.

Landlords who refuse to reduce rents during the poor condition of business were denounced, and resolutions were adopted calling upon "all persons out of work to refuse to pay rent until they have opportunity to relieve the hunger of those dependent upon their exertions for the necessities of life."

In spite of the lamentable fate of his Spectatorium, Steele Mackaye is undaunted.

He is a grand old fellow, the author of "Hazel Kirke" and "Paul Kaurer." The great historical production called "The World Finder," which he was to have brought out on such a colossal scale during the World's fair, is soon to have a hearing, though in a form modified somewhat from the original plan. It will be backed by the Chicago Entertainment company and will be given in the building formerly occupied by the Chicago Fire Panorama, which, by the way, is another failure of the World's fair year that I had overlooked. The building has been remodeled into an auditorium, with a large seating capacity, and at the rear has been constructed a large stage after the plans of the inventor—who built the double stage of the New York Madison Square theater—upon which will be displayed the 35 traveling stages and the paraphernalia used in the big spectacle. Above the stage are rooms to be used by the orchestra and the invisible chorus, which will be amalgamated with the scenic production. There are also roomy apartments for the reception of the complicated machinery which is to move the telescopic stages, and the exhibit of electricity will be under the control of one man. Mackaye has done his homework, and it is promised that the electrical effects will be a great surprise. If the production proves a success such as the projectors anticipate, the enterprise will be the pride of the country will be given a chance to see "The World Finder."

The appearance in "The Crust of Society" of the once famous burlesque star, Lydia Thompson, brings up a reminiscence of the days when I was a boy. It was about 25 or 30 years ago that the first real "British Blondes" burlesque company landed on the hospitable shores of Lake Michigan. They created a furore, but some of the newspapers pronounced their show immoral. Among these was The Times, which viciously attacked "Miss Lydia" in its editorial columns. The burlesque took the law into her own hands, and one forenoon, Wilbur F. Storey, waited until he had a full house, and then proceeded to give him a good horsewhipping. It Was Not Unexpected.
According to a Washington dispatch, published this morning, Maj. Baldwin stated last night that he will vote for the Wilson bill with its provision for free iron ore. He made this announcement after receiving the resolutions adopted at the double-headed meeting here last Thursday and after giving "earnest consideration," no doubt, to the protests against free ore unanimously adopted by the stock exchange and the board of trade of this city, the members of which made the protests regardless of their political tie.

This action on the part of the major can hardly be regarded as a surprise.
The Herald has expected that he would adopt this course and that it was a waste of time and energy to hold meetings and make protests against free iron ore, with the hope of inducing him to take a position in support of the existing tariff on ore. The meeting of last Thursday was called because he wished an expression from the people, yet he had already resolved to vote for the Wilson bill with its free ore provision and he took good care to have his personal friends here on hand at the meeting and create a miniature riot, so that he would not be placed in the embarrassing position of acting contrary to a unanimous protest against free ore. The split at the city hall, resulting in two meetings suited him exactly, as it afforded him the opportunity that he was seeking.

No one will probably deny John G.
Brown's authority to speak as to Maj.
Baldwin's intended action. In that famous interview which, despite his intense modesty Mr. Brown gave to the St. Paul Globe, appeared the following paragraph: "I wish to correct several misstatements that have appeared in regard to the position Maj. Baldwin will take upon this question. In reply to a letter sent to him, protesting against free ore, Maj. Baldwin said: 'I was nominated as a Democrat on a Democratic platform, and elected as a Democrat to carry out the policy which the Democratic party, or party, or party, or party, majority in congress must determine. I have not forgotten these facts nor do I propose to forget them.'"

This statement, mind you, was made previous to the meeting of last Thursday. It was made at a time when Maj.
Baldwin was refusing to let the Washington correspondents "where he was" at this question and was pretending that he was seriously considering the arguments pro and con and had not reached a decision. It was likewise made at a time when he was writing letters to Duluth Democrats, opposing to free ore, telling them that he was anxious to get a fuller expression of the views of the people of Duluth on this subject.

The Prospect Encouraging.
Maj. Baldwin is reported to have said in Washington last night that the Democrats from protection districts had hoped hard, but now had abandoned all idea of combining to defeat the Wilson bill and the scheme was to get 30 cents tax per ton on iron ore in the senate amendment and also tax on lead. He believed that this amendment would also pass the house if the senate agreed upon it, otherwise iron ore would go through free.

This statement does not agree with the information which The Herald has been receiving direct from people in Washington who are in as good a position as is the major to know what combinations are being made. A letter received by The Herald this morning says: "Those capitalists who are interested in mining iron ore, lead ore and coal are determined to fight to the bitter end the provision in the Wilson bill placing all these minerals on the free list. They are not only financially interested in preventing the proposed change, but they are deeply interested in the fact that thousands of workmen in every section of the country will be thrown out of employment, and their interests in ways affected injuriously. Both Democrats and Republicans seem inclined to unite in making this fight, and up to the present time it is claimed that they have nearly the entire support of congressmen west of the Mississippi river. As yet it cannot be learned that they consider that Representative Baldwin will fall into line and vote as they think he ought to in justice to his constituents. The Duluth congressmen are still noncommittal and is not at all inclined to come out either for or against this provision in the Wilson bill. There are some men opposed to having iron and lead ore on the free list who insist that, no matter how Bal-win may vote, they can win anyway."

The above was written previous to Maj. Baldwin openly declaring himself in favor of free iron ore, but it will be noticed that those who are working against this and similar features of the Wilson bill were not counting very strongly on his support and they will not give up the fight because he is for free ore. There are many congressmen who do not believe that the Wilson bill will pass congress. Representative Boen, who was in Duluth on Wednesday, said he did not expect the bill to pass the senate, at least in its present form, and he rather expected the senate to amend it by restoring the duty on iron ore, coal and lead. The Boston Advertiser of a recent date contains an interview with Gen. Draper, one of the congressmen from Massachusetts, who has been giving very close attention to the impending tariff legislation. He authorized the Advertiser to say that of three contingencies which can possibly happen, first, the passage of the Wilson bill, second, the defeat of any new tariff legislation, third, the adoption of a senate substitute bill, he considers that an alternative between the last two is alone probable. He does not believe that the Wilson bill can possibly pass the senate.
The probability, in his mind, is that the bill when it reaches the senate will be amended in order to placate the Democratic senators who are now vigorously opposing the Wilson measure. They represent the coal and iron interests of the Southern states and the industries of New Jersey and New York.
In order to make them satisfied, raw materials with the exception of wool, are likely to be taken off the free list and other amendments made intended to improve the arrangement of their local industries. This position will be entirely Democratic. A change of three votes on the Democratic side in the senate would defeat the Wilson bill or secure its amendment. The Populist senators will vote against the whole measure, and it is almost certain that the two Democratic senators from Alabama will vote against the free iron provision. Senator Murphy, of New York, already pledged to vote against the bill in its present form, and Senator Hill is likely to vote the same way. It will thus be seen that the prospect of retaining the existing duty on iron ore is very encouraging, despite the action of the Duluth congressman.

A Splendid Edition.
The Herald extends hearty congratulations to the News Tribune upon the mammoth "wedding edition" of forty pages published this morning. It is a splendid creditable to the management and speaks volumes for the prosperity of Duluth. There are few cities in the country where the newspapers have found it possible to issue special editions this winter, except at a heavy loss, and the mere fact that this splendid edition has been published by the News Tribune, taken in conjunction with The Herald's Christmas edition, will do Duluth much good.

The editorial staff of the News Tribune deserve high praise for the ability and careful regard for accuracy which they have displayed in the preparation of this number. The general public has but a faint idea of the immense amount of labor that it involves, of the intense strain which so much extra work produces upon a staff already busily occupied in the daily publication of a newspaper. They have done their work well, however, and can ever look back upon it as an achievement of which they have a full right to be proud. The number is well illustrated, while the handsome cover is very attractive. For this occasion the News Tri-

Canal Hold Back Duluth.
Ashland Press: The city of Minneapolis is so inordinately jealous of Duluth, that it favors putting ore on the free list. The Tribune fears that the development of the Mesaba range will make Duluth a still more powerful rival than it is now. The efforts of the Tribune and the efforts of the Mesaba range of the head of the lake to destroy.

Credit to Maj. Baldwin.
Princeton Union: The Union has given Hon. M. R. Baldwin due credit for his labors in behalf of the Mille Lacs timbers, and it will be an exceeding good day when the Union throws any rocks at Maj. Baldwin.

An Amusing Claim.
Maukato Free Press: One of the most amusing claims of the day is that the free coal will break the coal trust.
As anthracite coal has been on the free list for years, it is hard to see how the putting of soft coal on the free list will affect the trust.

Mr. Brown's Modesty.
Two Harbors Iron News: John G.
Brown, Duluth, while in St. Paul this week, was accorded the distinguished honor of an interview by the Globe.
We publish Mr. Brown's remarks, not because we endorse them or their author. With them he makes his debut as a leading iron miner, although we have never heard his name associated with a shipper. There was no necessity of mentioning his modesty. That was inferred.

Nature Shaped Their Future.
Superior Inland Ocean: So far as the cities of Superior and Duluth are concerned their greatness among the leading metropolitan cities of the nation is but a matter of time. Their growth can no more be hindered than can the growth of the nation itself. They did not, and do not depend upon booms or boomer-angs for their upbuilding. Nature, which does not fluctuate in its intentions, has shaped the future of the two cities. Men may make and men may go, but Superior and Duluth will continue a substantial and ever expanding advancement.

Famous in Legend and Poesy.
New York Sun: Long the most famous of Gopher towns in legend and in poesy, has now a new triumph.
The next convention of the National Educational association will be held there, and St. Paul and Minneapolis are hanging their diminished heads, and only opening them to remark in a lifeless manner occasionally that summer, with full calash, continues to smile through the orange groves and coconut reservations of the Banana Belt, where by the way, the thermometer is now out of sight. Duluth, meanwhile, grows proudly and meditates great deeds for the next census.

I Could Not Labor Any.
I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and thought I would try it. I have taken four bottles, and I feel like a new man. I have improved so rapidly that I could not labor any more.

In health that I am able to work hard now. I recommend this medicine to all who are suffering. I would not be without it in my house."

IT WAS CONSUMMATED.

The Union of Duluth and West Duluth fittingly Accomplished on Saturday Evening With Proper Exercises.

Mayor Martin Turned Over the Keys With a Few Words and Mayor d'Autreumont Responded.

Masterly Address of C. A. Towne on Cities and the Responsibilities of City Government and People.

The exercises in celebration of the consolidation of Duluth and West Duluth held at the assembly hall of the Central High school on Saturday evening were attended by a large audience. Upon the rostrum were Mayor d'Autreumont, of Duluth, Mayor Martin, of West Duluth, President Spencer, of the Duluth council, the trustees and firemen of West Duluth and three aldermen of Duluth, Messrs. Wilson, Helm and Nelson. The city band was placed just below the rostrum.

The exercises opened with the playing of Sousa's "Washington Post" march by the City band. President Spencer in a few words said that it seemed entirely fitting to make some public recognition of the fact that the municipal family is a charming village of West Duluth. He said the absence of bridesmaids and a ring would be observed with regret. A ring the city of Duluth fortunately has not. He then introduced Mayor John M. Martin, of West Duluth.

Mayor Martin said: "Six years ago when the very prosperous and beautiful city of West Duluth now stands as a forest thicket hardly penetrated, except by the celebrated Merritt family and the St. Paul & Duluth railroad. O. H. Sissons, Daniel G. Cash, Josiah D. Ensign, R. S. Munger and other prominent citizens of Duluth conceived the idea that on the upper side of St. Louis bay there should be a great and prosperous manufacturing city. The Merritts and citizens of the then town of Oneota readily agreed with them. And it was to the united efforts of these who I have named that West Duluth owes its present prosperity. The plan conceived beyond the expectations of the greatest enthusiast. It seems like a myth to the initiated and the one unacquainted with Western push and enterprise that in six years West Duluth should grow to such grandeur and immensity. The village comes into the city, he said, in a spirit of kindness and happiness. He also spoke of what the village will deliver to Duluth, referred to the manufacturing institutions, vast street improvements, fine fire and police departments, etc., and closed by turning to Mayor d'Autreumont, saying with the poet 'We die, but live a thousand fold.'

Mayor d'Autreumont in response said: "As I, in my official capacity, receive from you the keys of your fair city, symbolic of the Duluth and West Duluth no longer exists as a separate municipality; but that willingly and cordially it now becomes, and for all time will be a most important part of Duluth, it is my pleasant duty on behalf of all our people to bid you and those you represent a warm and hearty welcome as citizens of Duluth. We have here a reason to feel proud of this our latest and greatest acquisition, not as a conqueror, who by force has annexed an unwilling province, but as brothers who, believing in unity there is strength, unite the better to protect themselves and repel their enemies. As you are already cheerfully unite with and become a part of us, a common duty is cast upon us all, that in future we recognize no East nor West Duluth, but that it be one and indivisible, and all work and strive for the general good of the whole community. We owe it to ourselves and to our city to take an interest in municipal matters; to see that only honest men fill public offices and that they do their duty; that the lives and property of our citizens are protected; that all public money is carefully and economically expended; and that the burden of taxation is kept as low as possible, commensurate with the improvement and work that is absolutely necessary in a place developing so fast. We feel proud of the wonderful growth of our city in the past few years, and we have greater cause for pride than during the present terrible financial stringency that spreads like a pool over our entire country and its industries, that Duluth has maintained her credit and met her obligations, that her bonds at a low rate of interest have sold at a premium, that no bad failures have occurred, and that in spite of everything her business and commerce have increased. What, then, must it be in the near future when prosperous times again smile on our fair land. We will not only soon become the commercial and manufacturing metropolis of the Northwest, but we will have the largest, the cleanest, the healthiest and the best governed city in our state. The old and popular Glee club, Messrs. Frank Burke, Jr., P. Doran, H. S. Moody and George S. West sang "Come Brothers Come" and the audience went wild demanding three encore numbers.

Address of the Evening.
Charles A. Towne was then introduced as the Chauncey M. Depew of Duluth, and delivered a scholarly address, more a lecture than a speech. He said in substance: "It is a most important and interesting occasion that brings us together. We celebrate tonight an event of much significance in the history of what shall some day be known as one of the chief centers of population and industry on the globe. What might otherwise for many years have been a costly and hurtful antagonism between two adjoining municipalities dependent for growth upon essentially the same conditions, by this consummation becomes a united and organic progress toward the goal of a common destiny. The grand reality of hopes and interests aggregated on the Minnesota side of this harbor is henceforth one keeping and to be known by one name, a name first heralded to the general ear as the euphonious theme of jocular oratory and a concrete description of Western pretentiousness, now become one of most real and sane denotement; soon to be and remain of commanding import in the commercial and industrial statistics of the world; the name Duluth. Speaking historically we may be said to be familiar with three general types of cities—the ancient, the medieval, and the modern, each the result of conditions characteristic of its era and representing the different stages of political, social and economic evolution.

A discussion of the growth of cities and the causes bringing about their development, together with their evolution, was then entered upon by Mr. Towne. The genesis of the American city was also discussed and figures given showing the tendency of the cities to increase in population much more rapidly than the country. "The continued augmentation of the number and size of our cities," he said, "brings us face to face with many serious problems and grave responsibilities. For, however much, and however justly, we may delight in ourselves upon our glorious institutions, I suppose nobody will soberly claim that they have stood with dazzling success the test of application to the government of our American cities. We have furnished the world more well authenticated cases of maladministration, speculation and extravagance in city government than would have sufficed to down utterly any other institutional system that ever existed. Boss Tweed, happily, has had no peers in our history, but he had some feeble prototypes and had many ambitious imitators, in their way, quite creditable imitators. There was no time more fit than this, he said, for making good resolutions and renewing vows of fidelity springing from the high privilege of citizenship in this community.

The Three Chief Evils.
"American experience has shown that the chief evils of city government lurk in the following opportunities: "First: Special legislation, by which unconsidered and inconsistent, if not actually vicious, enactments are continually being made to suit one or another coterie of politicians, or to meet some temporary exigency whose remedy becomes a permanent prescription after the disease is passed.

"Second: Extravagance, or something worse, in the creation and the objects of indebtedness. The dilution of responsibilities among a lot of boards, committees and commissioners. By recent constitutional adoption we have provided in Minnesota that the legislature shall no longer cumber the public records with private or special legislation, laying salaries and salaries for the many tax payer and multiplying opportunities to what, by an apt expression in a very different connection, have been called hidden and abhorrent forces. The remedy for the second above mentioned evil, so far as one is sought beyond that of choosing honest and capable officials is usually applied by means of constitutional or charter limitations on the power to incur debts. Such a limitation is in force in Duluth and I trust it may not be permitted to express the hope that it may not be forgotten. The third evil is a very bad one. Nothing so conduces to keep a public servant both honest, active and in the open and to go to the polls to find out how his actions are esteemed. I believe, for municipal affairs, the constitution of executive officers vested with large discretion, and of a city legislative with ample powers, short of certain limits designated by the constitution, as in the case of the limitation on indebtedness. The voter knows then whom to punish when anything goes wrong, and an officer, whether executive or legislative, may be depended on to realize his responsibility when he cannot shrink it.

The Chief Safeguard.
"It should certainly be an object of very careful deliberation how the proposed general municipal statute in Minnesota shall be digested and enacted. It would seem as though enough co-operation could be had with other cities in the state to insure the passage by the legislature of a general law providing most of the safeguards that experience has shown to be needful. But the chief safeguard lies in the patriotism and vigilance of the electors. In the last analysis it is you and I, the individual citizen, that must be held responsible for the conduct of affairs. Our government, city, state or national, is pretty much as we make it. It cannot be permanently bad without a consent by an equivalent to a criminal conspiracy. No defective machinery can excuse carelessness by the operator; it rather should admonish him to unusual watchfulness. And have we not warrant and sanction enough, we citizens of the New Duluth, for the highest endeavors of citizenship? Where can the eye rest upon another so fair a scene? When the foundations of the earth were laid this spot was set apart and designated as the seat of a peaceful empire. In the fullness of time it is completing its destiny. It is our happy fate to be of those who, while not yet relieved from the labor, may taste the first fruits of the achievement.

Will Pledge Our Faith.
"With joined hands we will pledge our faith and works to the upbuilding and

The right governing of a united Duluth. It is related in Roman legend that the great temple of Jupiter was to be erected upon the Capitoline hill all the gods gave way to Jupiter and Juno with the exception of Terminus (the god of boundaries) and Juventas (the goddess of youth), whose sanctuaries the auguries would not allow to be removed. This was taken as an omen that the Roman state would remain ever undiminished and young, and the chapels of the two divinities were enclosed within the walls of the new temple.

Today we enlarge the boundaries of our empire, and we build here a temple of devoted citizenship about whose altars and those who come after us shall gather in the sacred rites of civic communion to the remotest posterity. And, if tonight I read the auguries aright, Terminus and Juventas shall be not removed but we build our temple about their images and offer ceaselessly at the shrines of youth and permanence the sacrifice of our highest, willing and noblest doing in the service of Duluth. Duluth forever!

Dr. Salter's Benediction.
The City band, then played Suppe's great overture "Poet and Peasant." Dr. Salter came forward next at President Spencer's invitation who said he was Duluth's own and no more needed an introduction to a Duluth audience than does a son to his father.

Dr. Salter said he was there because he was told that a minister was an absolute necessity at a wedding. He claimed the privilege of an old settler to speak of the groom now 22 years old. Poverty is an advantage, the poet says, and if this be true, Duluth in the early days had advantages for hard times there were here many years. The early citizens were hard workers and it was well that it was so for the location demanded hard work. Duluth's greatness is that of toil and service. He declared that young Duluth was always patriotic, loved the public school and planted it early, always went to church and never knew bigotry and was always the soul of hospitality. He closed by saying that he would repeat as he always does in the marriage ceremony "Whom God in His providence hath joined together, man put asunder."

The audience then rose and, accompanied by the City band, sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and dispersed.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Lost in New York."

This afternoon "Lost in New York" was presented at the Temple and tonight will also be seen. To theatergoers who admire realism and sensation in the drama it offers one of the strongest attractions in that line, being a play full of heart interest and thrilling situations. The result of his efforts in behalf of the down-trodden laboring men, J. H. Baker smokes scab cigars! It does not seem possible! Thus tonight each of real world-dared, speechless delegates.

Delegate J. H. Baker cringed beneath the sudden sweeping accusation. He trembled with emotion most deep. The silence in that hall seemed to cry out in language louder than thunder: "Delegate J. H. Baker, what have you got to say. Arise and explain deeds." So Delegate J. H. Baker arose to protest against the roasting so bluntly given him. He told that how, on a certain occasion, when showing the saw and jack-plane at a place on a street remote from the better class of shops, he was taken with that irresistible desire to smoke. The craving had to be satisfied. All old smokers know how terrible such a craving is, so seeking out a cigar stand, Delegate Baker found that it was an interior one, carrying nothing but scab cigars, but, under the circumstances, he purchased and smoked one. The faces of the delegates as they heard that explanation were studies for an artist's brush. But Delegate Baker had not done; continuing, he raised his hand on high and in an intensely dramatic manner said:

"Gentlemen! Aside from all that, I was told by a member of the Cigar Makers' union that a scab cigar is as good as a union cigar."

Delegate McCallum at once jumped to his feet and demanded that the name of the author of such a remark be given.

"I offer a reward of $5 for that information," excitedly shouted McCallum. Delegate Baker was in a tight box. The only way to get out was to give the name. Protesting that he did not want the $5, he slowly arose and said:

"That was a bomb shell. Emil Applebagen has often been called the god-father of organized labor in Duluth and to have Samuel Gompers' state organizer accused of such a remark, especially after years of agitation in favor of unionism in general and cigarmakers in particular, made the delegates feel as if the last post had fallen.

Things began to get hot and several delegates jumped up and began to roast Delegate J. H. Baker, when residents of Duluth came to order. There is considerable excitement over the matter and it is said that some of the delegates will insist upon investigating Delegate Baker and State Organizer Emil Applebagen.

HIS GRAVE OFFENSE.

Delegate J. H. Baker Accused in the Trades and Labor Assembly of Smoking Non-Union Cigars.

To This Awful Charge He Pleads Guilty and Also Implicated State Organizer Emil Applebagen.

The Latter Said a Scab Cigar Was as Good as a Union Cigar—Will Be Investigated.

The extensive sale of non-union cigars in Duluth has been a greater source of worry to the Federated Trades assembly than almost any other question claiming its attention. This condition of things has reduced the number of union cigarmakers from thirty to three since last July. The cigarmakers' union has cried long and loud to help itself. The trades assembly, however, has heard that the gods gave way to Jupiter and Juno with the exception of Terminus (the god of boundaries) and Juventas (the goddess of youth), whose sanctuaries the auguries would not allow to be removed. This was taken as an omen that the Roman state would remain ever undiminished and young, and the chapels of the two divinities were enclosed within the walls of the new temple.

When the reports of standing committees were called for, Delegate Wood arose and prefaced his report with a few remarks. He said:

"I confess that I am but a young member of the ranks of organized labor. When I went from home to learn my trade and win my way in the world my father called me aside and warned me not to have anything to do with labor unions. Years before, in the old country, he lost his position because he belonged to a labor union. That was the cause of his misfortune. I soon found out, however, that if I wanted to do any good my trade I must be a union man. I identified myself with the cause of organized labor and in its ranks I shall ever remain.

"But what is the use of all this work and agitation if we do not practice our union principles outside the walls of the hall of this assembly as well as within them? There are delegates high in the ranks of the union who are in the habit of smoking scab cigars."

"Name them! Name them! Name them!" loudly cried the aroused and excited delegates.

Delegate Wood straightened himself up, directed his eyes across the hall, slowly pointed his forefinger at Delegate J. H. Baker and said in firm, loud tones:

"There sits the man who smokes scab cigars!" A death like stillness possessed the hall as the delegates gazed in a dazed manner at their fellow delegate. J. H. Baker smoking scab cigars! It cannot be possible! Why! He has been a member of the Carpenters' union. He has led strikes. He has helped to man the picket lines. He has helped to organize unions and assemblies. He has made speeches. He has acted on committees appointed to bring obstinate oppressors of union labor to time. He has roared the plucators and defended the cause of the common herd. He even has held a municipal appointment as a result of his efforts in behalf of the down-trodden laboring men. J. H. Baker smokes scab cigars! It does not seem possible! Thus tonight each of real world-dared, speechless delegates.

The Coming Contest

In the spring election for mayor will be the most animated that has ever taken place in Duluth. In order to simplify matters and arrive at the real sentiment of the people as to who is their popular choice for mayor, The Herald hereby inaugurates a voting contest, by printing in each issue of The Evening Herald a coupon which every person in Duluth is requested to cut out and vote as often as they please and mail or bring it in person to The Herald office. The popular contestant who receives the largest number of votes will on January 10th, the day of the close of the contest receive his choice of the $125.00 Haviland China Dinner Set now on exhibition in Panton & Watson's window, or a $100.00 Easy Chair. The former valuable prize will also interest the ladies of Duluth to take a part themselves in this enterprise of determining who is the popular choice for Duluth's executive head. All you have to do is cut out the coupon which appears on the first page of The Herald tonight and write on it your choice for mayor; every vote cast in December counts three votes and each vote casts the first ten days in January will count one vote each. The China Dinner Set or the Easy Chair will be delivered to the fortunate winner on the morning of January 11th, and he may also be successful nominee of the citizens' convention which will be held a few days later. Send in your votes. The outcome of this contest will be watched with a great deal of interest and the standing of the different candidates announced from time to time.

GLOBE THEATER GONE

One of the Handsomest Playhouses in Boston Totally Destroyed By Fire This Morning.

Two Adjoining Buildings, Owned By Manager Stetson, Also Burned and Total Loss Is $350,000.

Hanlon Bros. Lost All Their "Superba" Scenery and Costumes—The Theater To Be Rebuilt.

Boston, Jan. 2.—Four alarms, the first one at 1:15 this morning, were rung in rapid succession for a fire in the Globe theater on Washington street. It was said to have started in the coal room on the north side in the basement. The roof of the theater fell in at 1:45. The work of the firemen was impeded for a time by the trolley wires, which, however, were soon cut. Lines of hose were carried over the roofs of the buildings which surrounded the theater and streams were poured down into the seething cauldron beneath, men with axes having already assaulted the doors guarding the Essex street and Hayward place entrances and as they were broken in the flames burst into their faces. From these openings the firemen directed streams into the furiously burning interior.

By this time the flames had eaten their way into the scenery room where were the tanks of compressed oxygen and hydrogen used by the Hanlons in obtaining their calcium light effects, and when these exploded the fire spread into every nook and cranny in the building and before 2 o'clock the roof of the main theater building fell with a crash.

Shortly afterward the fire reached the story brick building on the Harrison avenue extension, in which are located the green room and the players' dressing rooms. In spite of the heroic efforts of the firemen this building was also gutted, and costly wardrobes, properties and stage accessories were destroyed.

Creeping through an exit leading from the foyer of the theater to Hayward place the flames soon reached the four-story brick structure, No. 17 Hayward place, formerly John Stetson's residence, on the upper floors of which Hamilton Brook, the proprietor of the Globe cafe, in the adjoining building, resided. On the street floor this building was also consumed the entire interior of the structure.

The cafe occupied the ground floor of the adjoining building, No. 15 Hayward place. The upper floors of the Massachusetts Yacht club, Steward Willis and Caterer Roach were in the club parlor and they had no time to save either their lives or their own personal effects. This building was also gutted.

The fire was by this time rapidly reaching toward Washington street, on Hayward place, and it was then that it seemed impossible that the new building of the Harvard trustees and the intervening buildings could escape. Before it reached this point, however, it was successfully checked in the building occupied by the yacht club, and by 4 o'clock the fire was subdued and at 5 o'clock totally extinguished.

The two buildings on Hayward place, which were destroyed with the theater building, were owned by Manager and Proprietor John Stetson, of the Globe theater, and upon these he says there is no insurance. The theater is leased by Mr. Stetson and the bare property, including the land, is assessed at $100,000.
The total loss is roughly estimated at $350,000. It is estimated that the Hanlon Bros., who have had "Superba" on the Globe stage for the past week, will lose about $25,000.

The last theater fire in Boston was that which destroyed the Globe theater on May 30, 1873, and destroyed property valued at over $1,000,000. The theater was rebuilt the following year. This morning Mr. Stetson said he would rebuild and he promises a theater in every way superior to that destroyed.

The Hanlons were to have closed their engagement at the theater this week and "The Prodigal Daughter" was to have opened the coming week. Francis Wilson in "Ernie" and Thomas Seabrooke in a new drama were also under engagement to appear soon. In Mr. Stetson's safe in his private residence here shortly before noon today, the following contracts worth many thousands of dollars and also about $500 in money. It is not known as yet whether these will be found intact.

Jumped Four Stories.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—A disastrous fire occurred at 10:30 o'clock last night at 518 West One Hundred and Twenty-Sixth street, by which a damage of $25-000 was caused and the occupants rendered homeless. In addition to this a 4-year-old child met its death and its mother, Mrs. Magnus Ahlberg, sustained internal injuries and may die. When the fire broke out Mrs. Ahlberg jumped from a 4-story window with the child in her arms. The fire started from a lighted candle on the Christmas tree.

Fatally Scalded.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 2.—At 1 o'clock yesterday while the tow boat Beaver, which had just come down from Pittsburg with a tow of coal barges, was at Poydras street just above the city her boiler exploded. Several men were engaged in cleaning out the main boiler when the explosion occurred. The steamer was fatally scalded, and F. R. Saverin was slightly injured by the force of the explosion. The boat was only slightly injured.

Killed by a Hog.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Jan. 2.—James Darwin, aged 12 years, was tending a hog with a stick yesterday. The hog jumped on the boy, knocked him down and sally at his arm off, besides taking huge slices of flesh from his legs and breast.
Rescuers finally came to Darwin's aid, but he died in a few minutes.

GREAT DAY FOR MANCHESTER.

Opening of the Canal That Makes it a Port of Entry.

MANCHESTER, Jan. 2.—The Manchester ship canal was opened to general traffic yesterday, and Manchester thereby becomes a port of entry with all the benefits that accrue to such a port. The weather was fine, the sun shone brightly and, being a holiday, the banks were lined at many places by thousands of spectators anxious to witness the passages of ocean-going vessels to Manchester.

Fifty thousand tickets were issued, and these admitted the shareholders and their friends to points of vantage near Manchester. The procession started at an early hour from Warrington on the Manchester and Liverpool. At the head of the procession was the steamer Norseman conveying the directors. She was followed by other steamers, and the procession continued along the canal, and the procession was greeted with hearty cheers as it passed along in the direction of Manchester.

The ceremony was performed with much eclat, and the procession was greeted with hearty cheers as it passed along in the direction of Manchester. The queen and prince of Wales will open it with elaborate ceremonies at Easter. It is estimated that the crowds collected along the banks of the canal numbered over 100,000 persons.

There were twenty-five cargo laden vessels in the procession. Some of them were from the leading British ports, while others were from Mediterranean ports, Holland and Norway. The first cotton cargoes, consigned direct to Manchester from the Southern states, are expected to arrive on the steamers Ohio and Verano from New Orleans and the Glen Isle and Finsbury from Galveston.

IS CHARGED WITH MURDER.

A Toledo Man Arrested For a Crime Done Nine Years Ago.

TOLEDO, Jan. 2.—Nine years ago on Dec. 20, 1884, between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Mrs. Gottlieb Stahl, a wealthy and miserly old woman who kept a small saloon on Monroe street in this city, was murdered and robbed of $100. Yesterday, acting on information received in a telegram from his divorced wife, George Kohler, a peddler and huckster living in this city, was arrested charged with the murder.

A telegram from the wife contained a quest for a small amount of money. The peddler had been good. The wife then wired to a confederate in this city whose name the police refuse to divulge, instructing him to give Kohler's name to the police.

The latter did so and the man was arrested. He was overcome with fright but denied all knowledge of the case or the person connected with the killing of Mrs. Stahl. Last night the chief of police at Peru, Ind., was instructed to arrest the complaining witness, Mrs.
Gottlieb Stahl, who had resided in that city for some time. She will be brought to Toledo and the truth of her story tested.
The murder of Mrs. Stahl attracted a great deal of attention at the time it was committed.

TO BE NAMED TOMORROW.

New Receivers of the Duluth and St. Cloud Land Offices.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—[Special to The Herald.]—It is stated positively at the interior department today that Fred Evan will be appointed receiver of the Duluth land office by the president tomorrow and C. F. MacDonald's nomination as receiver of the St. Cloud land office will also be sent to the senate.

It cannot be definitely stated whether the United States marshal will be named tomorrow, but probably not.

THREE MEN WERE KILLED.

ture explosion of a blast at Townsend and Washington streets in the Roxbury district this morning. Those killed are:

man of the gang of workmen and lived on Quincy street; Thomas Black, 35, who lived on Dacia street; Patrick Case,

The injured are: Cornelius Leary, 45 years, living on Harrison avenue, probably fatally hurt; Angus McDonald, 18,

Capt. Grummond Dead.

DETROIT, Jan. 2.—Capt. Stephen B.
Grummond, one of the principal vessel owners of this city, and one of the oldest and best known vessel men on the great lakes, died at his residence here shortly before noon today, after an illness of several weeks, aged 59 years. Capt.
Grummond was owner of the Grummond-Mack line of tug and the Grummond-Mack sac line of passenger boats. He had served one term as mayor of Detroit, and at the time of his death he was president of the police commission.

PERISHED IN A FIRE.

Two Lodgers in a Cheap Buffalo House Burned to Death and Others Badly Injured.

The Building Was But a Rookery and Burned Like Tinder and Escape Was Difficult.

Was a Regular Cubby Hole and the Inmates Were Caught Like Rats in a Trap.

BUFFALO, Jan. 2.—The cheap lodging house on Swan street between Main and Washington, kept by Lizzie Hackett, was destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock this morning. Of the score or more of lodgers, two perished and all of the others were more or less seriously burned and injured. The dead are: Isaac Bradley, lodger; unknown woman, lodger, burned beyond recognition.

The injured: Mrs. Annie Hackett, proprietress, burned about head and arms; George Wright, bartender, burned about head, hands and arms; David E.
Ward, negro cook, badly burned on head and hands; Louis Anderson, lodger, burned about head and legs; Charles Edwards, printer, left arm broken, body badly burned, jumped from the third story window and is probably fatally injured; John Avery, of Palmyra, N. Y., legs badly burned and bruised, also jumped from the third story window; George Fleming, arms and face burned; George Harrington, left shoulder dislocated, back burned; Edwin Cross, of California, very badly burned and in serious condition; J. F. Russell, painter; O'Leary, N.
Y., burned about arms and body, seriously; William Sweeney, slightly burned about legs; Charles Van Ever (negro) privates were seen bursting from the burned. All the injured are at the hospital.

The fire was discovered at 2:30 o'clock when flames were seen bursting from the windows. The firemen were speedily on hand but the building was a rookery and burned like tinder. Ladders were raised to the windows and the firemen bent all their efforts to saving the inmates. The second floor of the building was particularly hot and the firemen were unable to enter the same in the same manner as horse stalls, and each stall held its quota of lodgers, packed in together like sardines, some
said, two, some said thirty in all.
There was no register.

Straw, shavings and other rubbish formed the bedding and this furnished the necessary fuel with which the fire completed its deadly work. It was a regular cubby hole and the inmates were caught like rats in a trap. A number rushed toward the doorway toward the rear, when warned by the smoke and heat, and were badly burned before being rescued by the firemen.

Others were not so fortunate, or, perhaps, stupefied with drink, were paral-yzed with fear when confronted with their sudden death. Four people were taken out through the windows. The firemen did heroic work, fearlessly entering the blazing rooms and rescuing those

haps, stupefied with drink, were paral-
their sudden death. Four people were
men did heroic work, fearlessly entering
second floor of the building was particularly hot and the firemen were unable to enter the same in the same manner as horse stalls, and
each stall held its quota of lodgers,
packed in together like sardines, some

Some Street Names Will Have to Be Changed—Sad Death of Mrs. William Chesser.

Yesterday afternoon Mayor d'Autremont and Chief Horgan met the officers of the West Duluth police department by appointment and made the necessary changes to conform to the new condition of affairs. Chief Patterson was appointed lieutenant, and Capt. Doyle and Sergt. Ronayne were named as sergeants. No change was made with the remaining personnel of the department.

This afternoon the fire commissioners were expected to appear and in like manner chop off some of the titles of the fire department. The municipal union will require a number of changes yet to be made in the village, for instance, there are four first avenues at present in Duluth and West Duluth which makes it probable that nearly all of the streets will have to be renamed and the buildings renumbered. Then a number of other little problems that will appear for solution from time to time by those in authority.

Death of Mrs. William Chesser. The first shock that the new year has brought to this community is the death of Mrs. William Chesser, living on First avenue west. The deceased had been suffering from typhoid fever for several weeks but it was only yesterday that hope gave way to despair and the physician said she could not live. She was but 25 years old and leaves a little girl to mourn her loss. The funeral will probably take place Thursday afternoon.

The fire department was called out yesterday afternoon by an alarm from Chubb's saloon on Grand avenue. The fire originated from a defective flue and was extinguished with no damage.

MOUNTAIN IRON MATTERS. A Reform Wave Struck the Town and Closed the Gambling Houses.

MOUNTAIN IRON, Minn., Jan. 2.—The dance at the Exchange hotel last Tuesday was well patronized and a very enjoyable time was had by all present.

This town is getting a reform wave. Last Wednesday the august body of village trustees issued an edict to the effect that all gambling rooms be closed.

The Christmas entertainment given under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal church Christmas day was a popular success, and nothing but praise is heard for the children who took part in the singing and recitations. There was a present for every child in attendance.

The weather for the past week has been very fine, averaging 12 degrees above, with no snow.

The men that were laid off at the mines here have made up their minds to seek a more congenial climate and the town is nearly deserted.

"Joe," who rents a house here, had two men "bathing" with him and held them until he got tired of tooting the bells. He went home one night without the usual supply of food and, on the query of "where's the grub?" he told them he was tired of feeding them, whereupon they threw him out. Of course he wanted to get them out, so up to the justice he went. After hearing the case as stated above, the justice decided to give him a week of reprieve. The marshal served it and as the two "star" boarders could not read it "went."

Dr. J. had a call from a patient the other day, and on seeing the man asked to see his tongue. The patient replied: "Better look at my wife's tongue; that's what ails me."

THE MYSTIC SHRINE.

Brilliant Reception and Entertainment Yesterday Afternoon.

There was a jolly time at Masonic hall yesterday afternoon, the reception of the Mystic Shrine, and the rooms were crowded all afternoon. Everybody was well and every Shrine was present and assisted in entertaining the guests. The orchestra was present and played all afternoon.

In the main lodge room the "Renowned Shrine of Cairo" received, assisted by committee. Bread and salt were offered according to the Arab custom. As the visitors left the receiving committee and passed on he was closely inspected and if he was regarded as somewhat unusual, a surprise was sprung which was a very close inspection of the guests. The effect was usually all that could be desired. In one of the ante-rooms camels' milk, pomegranates, dates and figs were served under the direction of the celebrated George Decker.

The Midway Plaisance was the crowning success, however, and was in charge of the skillful Ste. Pencil Ra Zer and the only Jero Mezzo O. Ley. The burliness were immense and everything was represented from the Ferris wheel, the dance de ventre to Hagenback's animals. The art gallery was amusing and there were some exceedingly clever hits.

The Odd Fellows will hold a public installation at their hall Thursday evening, Jan. 4. Duluth Lodge No. 28, Central lodge No. 175 and Duluth Encampment No. 3 will install together and all Odd Fellows are cordially invited to be present with their families and friends. After the ceremonies there will be a social, with refreshments served.

COMMITTEE.

The friends in council of the Congregational church and orchestra of the Sunday school will give a supper and social in the church parlors on Friday evening next. An attractive program has been arranged, and all are invited to attend.

JUDGE MOER IN COURT.

He Took His Seat on the Bench Today and Proceeded to Open Court at Once.

Judge Ensign Will Clear Up Accumulated Work and Not Sit in Open Court.

Court Cases of the November Term Taken Up and a Number Disposed of Today.

Judge S. H. Moer walked into court room No. 2 this morning and took his seat in the judicial chair and proceeded to open court as though he had been in the harness for months. There was no ceremony of any kind or anything to mark the event. Judge Moer took the oath of office some time ago and Hon. O. P. Stearns is no longer judge in the Eleventh judicial district.

Judge Ensign will now endeavor to catch up on back work of which he has quite an amount before him. For the present only two judges will hold court, the third attending matters in chambers. This morning Judges Lewis and Moer took up the court cases of the November calendar. Before Judge Lewis the following disposition of case was made this morning:

John D. Boyd vs. R. C. Elliott et al., settled and dismissed.
James Douglas vs. James Turner et al., stipulation for judgment.
Simon Clark & Co., appeal of Harvey Kieker from disallowance of claim; judgment for appellant.

John Simpson vs. C. A. Krause et al., stipulation for judgment.

Two cases are being tried together before Judge Lewis and were still on at noon. They bear the same title, American Exchange bank of West Superior against R. F. Wilson et al. They are suits to collect on notes and involve some matters connected with the Simon Clark & Co. affairs.

Before Judge Moer, in the case of John Miller vs. Herman E. Long there was no appearance of the plaintiff and the defendant's demurrer was sustained. At noon the case of Miah T. Hulett vs. Hannah Hamilton was on. Some time ago in the case of Hannah Hamilton vs. M. T. Hulett, the plaintiff judgment was given against Hulett. The latter now claims that it was obtained under false representations and seeks to have it set aside.

Joseph Miner Pleads Not Guilty to a Charge of Attempted Rape.

Louis Nelson, who is charged with stealing three valuable bolts of dress goods from Johnson & Moore, the West End merchants, was arraigned on the charge of grand larceny in the second degree. He pleaded not guilty and his examination was set for 10 a. m., Jan. 6. Not being able to furnish $200 bail, Nelson will await his hearing at the county jail.

Emma Zigler, charged by her mother, Barbara Apple, with incorrigibility, was arraigned this morning and her hearing will come off Jan. 10. In the meantime Emma will reside behind the iron bars. Her mother alleges that her daughter, who is 15 years old, will not stay at home and that she is much given to thieving.

Gus Johnson, Jack Matson, John Huro, up for drunkenness, pleaded guilty and secured suspension of sentences. Moses Johnson, charged with the same offense, went up for ten days. James Ryan pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and vagrancy was suspended. The charge of vagrancy against Mike Broderick was dismissed.

Business Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken from the tube, restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hays' Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists.

Henry Holden, a 14-year-old boy, while skating on the bay yesterday morning, slipped and sprained his ankle.

PERSONAL.

W. B. Gardiner, traveling salesman for the Wells-Stone Mercantile company, is seriously ill.

Capt. John Pengilly, of the Chandler mine at Ely, is at the St. Louis.

Capt. Alexander McDougall and Hon. H. R. Moore, of the Duluth-Superior harbor improvement committee, will probably leave tonight for St. Paul to consult with J. J. Hill upon the subject of the improvement of the harbors of Duluth and Superior.

Superintendent Bialand, of the Mahoning mine, near Hibbing, is at the Spalding.

AROUND THE CITY.

Sayings and Doings of People Whom Everybody Knows Well.

S. L. Smith returned home yesterday after a prolonged absence. He said, "Where I was in Iowa at Tipton, Cedar county, the people and banks are loaded with money which they would invest if they knew where it would be safe. I reached Duluth and then I sent off a large number of the special editions of the Duluth papers to my friends there, as soon as I arrived home. While at Tipton I met my old friend Judge Kathrock, chief justice of the supreme court of Iowa. I used to read law with him and he is coming to Duluth shortly and will form a partnership with me in the law business."

Col. D. H. Stevenson said today: "In spite of everything I am beginning to feel good. The situation in the real estate market is decidedly improved. I have done some business during the last month and shut out the door. We are again commencing to hear from old friends who have made money here before and believe that they can again. I have done some business during the last month and shut out the door. We are again commencing to hear from old friends who have made money here before and believe that they can again. I have done some business during the last month and shut out the door. We are again commencing to hear from old friends who have made money here before and believe that they can again."

"There will be a job for the corner shortly," said a First ward property owner yesterday. "I have a lot of property in each ward and the entrance fee was $1.00, contestants to receive 10 cents for each target broken. The balance remaining was divided into three equal parts. The following was the score:

First event—Day, Carey, 8; Holmberg, 7; Moore, Green, 5; R. Little, Pastore, Nelson, 4; Pearson, McDonald, L. McDonald, 3; Stevens, 2.

Second event—Green, 9; Carey, Nelson, 6; K. Little, Holmberg, Pearson, 5; Day, McDonald, R. Little, 4; Pastore, Moore, 3; Tilsen, 2.

Third event—Day, 9; R. Little, 7; Carey, Pearson, Nelson, 6; Greene, 5; Pastore, Tilsen, McDonald, R. Little, 4; Moore, Holmberg, 3.

Fourth event—Carey, Green, Day, 6; Stevens, Coons, 5; Pastore, Moore, McDonald, 4; Holmberg, Pearson, Tilsen, R. Little, 3.

Fifth event—Carey, 8; Pearson, 7; Day, 6; Stevens, 5; McDonald, Moore, Pastore, 4; Greene, Holmberg, 3; Coons, 2; Tilsen, R. Little, 1.

Sixth event—Day, 6; Greene, McDonald, 5; Moore, Carey, Greene, 4; Stevens, 2; E. Nelson, 1.

F. L. Carey, president of the Livingston, Mon. gun club was present.

The joint reception by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations yesterday afternoon and evening was delightful in every way and a large company was entertained. Misses Palmer, Gray, Tilsen, Moore, Carey, Nelson, 4; Pearson, McDonald, L. McDonald, 3; Stevens, 2.

It was a varied entertainment. From 3 to 4 there was music, from 4 to 5 reading and recitations, from 5 to 6 a conversation in which given topics were discussed during five minute intervals, from 6 to 7 refreshments were served and in the evening there was music and general conversation.

Two curling rinks from the Duluth Athletic club went to Superior yesterday afternoon and curled there during the afternoon at the East End rink. They came off victorious, the score being as follows:

DULUTH. REFEREES. A. McFar, R. C. Dyer, E. S. Palmer, B. D. Merrill, R. F. Fullerton, J. H. Johnson, J. E. Dinwiddie, J. E. Dinwiddie, R. E. Hanson, Ronald Smith, W. N. Anderson, R. E. Hanson, W. N. Anderson.

After the match the curlers enjoyed a dinner at the Euclid. On Saturday three rinks from the Superior curlers will come to Duluth and there will be a match at the Glen Avon rink.

The Superiors Won.

The Non-Stop curling club went down before the Badgers, of Superior, at polo yesterday at the Fifth avenue rink. Only one goal was scored and the contest was pretty one. The teams lined up as follows:

It Was a Beauty.

The Mesabi Range, The Duluth Herald's Christmas edition was a beauty and a credit to the publishers. It was seen as though the people of Duluth are beginning to appreciate their newspapers better than they used to. But perhaps this is because their newspapers are better.

TESTING A CHEMICAL.

Fire Commissioners Viewing a Hand Engine This Afternoon.

The board of fire commissioners met at Engine House No. 1 this afternoon to test the Miller hand chemical fire engine with a view to placing the same in each police box in the city. This extinguisher is said to be the only one that will not freeze. After that test, the members of the board proceeded to West Duluth to make final arrangements with the met there for becoming members of the Duluth force. As it takes an average fireman some time to learn to read a fire alarm signal accurately, a couple of old, experienced hands will be located at West Duluth and a couple of the newer men down there placed in the older houses.

Commissioner Hart said that he anticipated that few actual changes would be made, but that the commissioners think that the department needs a second assistant chief and have made a move in that direction. Mr. Hart also remarked that Chief Jackson is meeting with great success in carrying out the changes that are necessary in the department.

The City's Finances.

According to the city treasurer's statement submitted to the council last night, there was a net balance of $87,417.58 in the treasury. That is, it should be in the treasury, but the fact is that it is locked up in a default bank and is unavailable.

The city pay rolls for December had not then been passed. The treasury is therefore bare, the city taxes are being paid very slowly and the assessments are away behind so far as their payment is concerned.

On every hand merchants and private citizens are reducing their expenses to the smallest amount possible. Retrenchment is the order of the day. Economy is the watchword in every line of business. There are hundreds of people who are almost destitute, and the city should vote a few thousand dollars at least to aid them. Yet there are some aldermen who, in the face of these facts, are proposing to increase the city's debt by $80,000 to build a water main that will begin at Lester river and end nowhere and which will not produce any revenue for three or four years, necessitating a further demand on the general fund of $36,000 a year, with the probability that the expenditure of $400-000 will be necessary before the system can earn a cent of revenue.

Would any one of these aldermen pursue such a reckless policy in the conduct of their own business? Would not their creditors expect them to be paid bankruptcy? Is there not some man in the council who, seeing the folly and the extreme danger of this proceeding, will try to put a stop to it?

A new council will be elected next month. To it should be left the decision of this question. The aldermen then elected will be fresh from the people and will more nearly represent their present views. Why, then, should the present board of aldermen make haste to commit the city to an increased burden of taxation that will raise the tax levy another notch, when already the rate has been increased in one year from 26 mills to 29.5 mills?

Most people believe it is time to call a halt. The aldermen should heed the warning.

Judge Norton's Death.

A picturesque figure at Republican national conventions for many years past was removed by death last Sunday.
Judge A. B. Norton, of Dallas, Texas, who was well known to many people in Duluth, was one of the most notable men in the country by reason of his long white hair and flowing whiskers, which were the result of unswerving fidelity to a vow made fifty years ago.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean relates that Mr. Norton was fifty years ago one of the ardent followers of Henry Clay in Ohio, and like many other men since that time, his faith in his idol was so strong that he made a careless vow that he would never allow a razor to touch his face nor shears his hair until Clay was the president of the United States.
His enthusiasm over Henry Clay was simply a feature of that remarkable following of the great Whig leader—a following such as no other public man in America has ever had. But when Henry Clay failed in his ambition Mr. Norton regarded his vow with the sacredness that surrounded an oath, and he kept it with the same fanatical loyalty that other men keep more important vows. He went to Texas just before the war of the rebellion, and he remained a Union man surrounded by the bitterest enemies of that sentiment.

He began the publication of Norton's Intelligencer at Dallas, and in its columns preached Unionism and later Republicanism with such vigor that it continued to live in a country where few Republican papers have been obtained when the next national convention meets.

The wine of the News Tribune that Republicans do not give official "pap" to their party newspapers in preference to other papers does not do it credit. Its argument would lead people to believe that such newspapers are Republican for the sole reason of securing party patronage. There may be some Republican papers of that sort, but The Herald would not do all the injustice of including them in such a list. It believes the majority are Republican because they believe in the principles of Republicanism.

Will They Stand Firm?

Democratic Representative Cadmus, of Paterson, N. J., is opposing the Wilson bill, and gives the following reasons:
"I shall not vote for the Wilson bill unless there are great changes. I shall not oppose it because of the sugar bounty, though I am against that, but because I believe in protecting home industries. I am satisfied that there will be great changes in the senate; I have assurances from several senators that there will. I do not believe that the bill will pass at all in anything closely approaching its present form."

Mr. Cadmus is not the only Democratic congressman who has talked in this strain, and if they all live up to their promises the majority for the bill in the house will be small. But will they stick to their present resolves? There's the rub. Already the administration lash is being used to whip the recalcitrants into line. Take Maj. Baldwin's case. At first he was ready to oppose free iron ore, if the people of Duluth desired. The party lash descended, and he qualified this remark by the proviso, if the Duluth Democrats so desired. Then he abandoned that position, and when the city hall meeting split in two he found an excellent opportunity to say he would vote for free ore—just as the administration desired.

Whether the other Democratic congressmen who have stated their opposition to the bill will have more backbone and remain true to their first professions remains to be seen. The chances are more favorable for the revision of the bill in the senate, where a change of three Democratic votes could defeat it.
With proper effort, those interested in iron ore should be able to get sufficient Democratic support in the senate to restore it to the dutiable list.

To Provide Work.

The city council followed The Herald's advice last night and appointed a committee to confer with the county commissioners regarding the condition of the unemployed men, with a view of providing work for them during the winter.
There should be little difficulty in devising some plan that will give employment to many men who are now anxious to earn some money to support themselves and their families. They would rather have work than become dependent upon charity.

The adoption of such a system of relief would also put an end to a large amount of the imposition that is practiced upon the public and upon charitable societies by those who would rather live on the charity of others than work. By placing the wages at $1 a day the funds at the command of the authorities will provide work for a larger number of men than if greater wages were paid, and at the same time it will offer no inducement for men to come here from other cities to secure work.

The next dispatch from Cape Town will announce that Capt. Wilson is chasing King Lobengula, and that King Lo-bengula is chasing Capt. Wilson. And one report is as likely to be as true as the other. Cape Town seems to be as great a factory for news rumors as is Superior.

A Detroit man who claims to have discovered a cipher showing that Bacon, wrote the works credited to Shakespeare has sent a Detroit paper for damages for calling him "a literary fraud." That other distinguished Baconian, Ignatius Donnelly, could give his Detroit rival a few valuable points on the poor results of libel suits. However, if the Detroit man can get enough ciphers attached to a verdict he will no doubt be satisfied.

The Chicago Times says it is difficult to estimate whether Illinois Democrats have derived the greater encouragement from Mr. Cullen's declaration that he will be a candidate for United States senator or Mr. Morrison's promise that he won't.

The wealthiest people in the world are the Osage Indians. Their average per capita wealth is $16,771. There are many white people who would gladly exchange places with them today.

Charles A. Dana, of the New York Sun, says his maxim for 1891 is "Obey God and Never Fear the Devil." Mr.
Dana has never shown any disposition to fear the devil or anyone else.

Governor Waite, of Colorado, wants to succeed Mr. Wolcott in the United States senate, but it is hardly likely that his wish will be gratified.

The fight between Governor Lewelling and Mrs. Lease over the Populist corpse in Kansas is interesting, if not important.

Those who are proposing to tax incomes should hasten or they will not find any incomes to tax.

The Herald has been designated as the official paper of St. Louis county for the ensuing year.

Give the Men Work.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The Herald has not put too strongly the case of the unemployed of our city. It is the question of the hour. Cannot the combined wisdom of the city and county authorities do something, and that quickly to solve this problem? Private parties and manufacturers will not do much to meet this call spring, winter is upon us. Industrious, capable men, some of whom have at command a good trade, are walking our streets despair-ingly and listlessly, and wondering how they can face this winter, with no prospect of earning a cent.

To simply evade the point by granting these men a sleeping place and some meal tickets is poor policy. This encourages the chronic shiftless and indolent to become worthless feeders upon charity, and worst of all it threatens faithful and industrious men with a loss of their jobs. It is at best a cruel necessity to compel men to accept a charitable deed when they would gladly work for a small compensation. Our authorities need not fear that the city will be flooded with men from other places in search of work. The pay would necessarily be less than that offered little inducement for such an invasion.

Please then, for heaven's sake, for the sake of honorable men, whom we are reducing to the position of pauperism and mendicancy, put your heads and hearts together and see if there is not something to be done for these unemployed men in the next two or three months, something that will drive away the mere idle vagrants and that will save the many and those willing to work from discredit and a cruel dependence.

The Friendly inn, through the liberality of the Christian church and the labor of the Associated. The Bethel offers decent lodging; the Bethel offers abundant meals at very low rates. But neither the inn or the Bethel should be the place of necessity of housing and feeding those who want no work, if such there should be provided to be by the work test.

There are mountains of rock to be cleared away and reduced to material for paving our streets; there are roads to be opened and improved in all parts of our country; there are forests to be cleared. Can the county and city fail to meet the emergency? Let them not wait. Some things are best done by doing them. Necessity knows no nice quibbles. Work, work, give us work!

Duluth, Jan. 3.

Never Sleeps Long.

St. Louis Republic: The copic patriarch of Alexandria is never allowed to sleep more than fifteen minutes at a time, and if the attendant should allow the holy one's nap to extend beyond the allotted time the penalty is deportation. Upon being aroused at the end of each quarter hour, the patriarch arises and spreads his rug upon the floor, kneels upon it, bows his head three times to the East and then again retires.

No More Moneying.

Kansas City Journal: The senate ought to have the courage of its convictions on the Hornblower appointment, and either confirm or reject without any more moneying.

Saved With His Mouth.

Washington Post: Governor Lewell-ing's admission that he was at one time a tramp clears up one mystery. It will be recalled that Lewelling never did saw wood with a saw—nothing accompanied.

Behaving Like Foals.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The people who are writing anonymous abusive letters to Chairman Wilson are behaving like ill-mannered foals. There are plenty of reputable and effective methods of attacking him.

Not an Issue.

Savannah (Ga.) News: Col. J. Hampton Hoge has been misled if he believes he is an issue with the administration.
The colonel had better sit down.

SUGAR IS NOW VERY CHEAP.

Prices Have Touched the Lowest Point on Record.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—The recent declining tendency in sugar prices culminated yesterday in a cut of one-quarter of a cent a pound in granulated, which brought the net price below the lowest quotation on record. The price decreased by one cent, less a rebate of 1-16 and 2 per cent discount to cash buyers, so that the net cost to jobbers was 3 3/4 cents per pound.

The lowest previous price was 4 cents less the cash discount, in the fall of 1891, shortly after the removal of the duties on raw sugars and at the time Spaulding's competition with the local refineries outside of the sugar trust. At that time, however, there was no rebate, such as now allows under the terms of the agreement, between the refiners and the wholesale grocers; and the current price is, therefore, the lowest ever touched on refined sugar.

South Carolina Prosperous.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 3.—Replies to a circular letter sent by the News and Courier to all parts of South Carolina are to the effect that short crops and low prices had a depressing effect on business, but the worst is over; the manufacturing industries have prospered in spite of hard times; the mills have run on full time all the year round; labor is abundant; the counties are well to do and the people are living at home; bread and meat are in plenty and to spare.

To Destroy Derelicts.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—A petition signed by a large number of captains of British vessels employed in the trans-Atlantic trade, is ready to be presented to Mr.
Gladstone, urging that Great Britain join with the United States and other powers in sending warships to destroy derelicts.
The petition points out the danger to navigation presented by these floating wrecks. It is signed by most of the cap-

A BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Kathleen Moore Entertained Her Friends Yesterday Afternoon.

Capt. N. D. Moore's residence was yesterday the scene of much innocent childish mirth and enjoyment. The occasion was the fifth birthday of Miss Kathleen Moore. From 10 to 6 o'clock the parlors were entirely given up to the enjoyment of the little ones, the majority of whom attend the kindergarten of Miss Alice Butchart, who, with Miss Marie McFerran, her assistant, did much to add to the pleasures of the afternoon. Music was furnished by Honore's orchestra, and a kindergarten drill at the opening was pretty in the extreme. The drill brought over the children danced until they were tired, and after enjoying a dainty supper were taken home.

The children present were: Kathleen Moore, Ethel, Edna and Edith Scoville, Isabel, Rosamund and Marjorie Patrick, Myrtle and Gertrude Butchart, Arthur Michaud, Agnes and R. Bayard McFerran, Helen Stevenson, Mildred West, Eunice Smith, Frances Fraser, May Palford, Thomas Manley, Mamie, Antoinette and Herbert d'Antremon, Harry and Charlie McEachron, Maggie Cox, Nellie Moore, Nat Moore, Jr., Ethel, Gracie and Clyde Farmer, Hollie Hibbing, Sophie Parker, Anna and Clara Frederick, Carlotta and Frances Sagar, Fred Elston, John Tausig, Ada Parke. Mrs. Moore was assisted by Mesdames McEachron and Scoville and by Misses Alice Butchart, Rose Butchart and Mamie, Florence and Parker McFerran.

THE COUNTY BOARD.

Dr. Fullerton Resigns—The Herald Made the Official Paper.

After the election of Camille Poirier as chairman yesterday, the board of county commissioners proceeded to general business. Dr. Fullerton, county physician, presented his annual report at the bottom of which was his resignation. He complained of not having received the support of the commissioners. He also made some recommendations in reference to the office and the care of county patients. His resignation was received. The Duluth Evening Herald was unanimously elected the official paper of the county and will print the official proceedings, financial statement and tax list during the coming year.

The following committees were named by the chairman: Highways and bridges—All commissioners. Poor and poor farm—Miller, Swenson and Butchart.

Court house and jail—Butchart, Swenson and Miller. Claims and accounts—Swenson, Butchart and Miller.

Taxes and assessments—Butchart, Miller and Swenson. Supplies and purchasing—Miller, Bonham and Butchart.

Legislation—Bonham, Miller and Butchart. A committee of Tower people appeared and asked the board for aid in building a road from Lake Vermilion into the Kainy lake region. The commissioners favored the idea but the road fund is exhausted now. As soon as the funds are available and the proper legal proceedings have been taken an appropriation will probably be made.

An adjournment until Friday morning was then taken.

The Morning's Meeting.

At the meeting this morning a county physician was elected. There were seven applicants, Drs. Sherwin, G. W. Davis, Walker, Bakke, MacKenzie, Speier and Krogstad. Under the first ballot Dr. Sherwin received 3 votes and Dr. Davis and the former was declared elected. Assistant physicians, they to act also as assistant superintendents of the poor, were named as follows: Dr. French, Dr. J. H. Noble, at Bwabik, Dr. French, at Fly, Dr. Shuman, at Virginia, Dr. Brown, at Hibbing, Dr. Rood, at West Duluth, Dr. John Pearson, at Tower, Dr. Clark was re-elected superintendent and P. O. Noben as assistant. Their salary remains as it is this year. A. Poirier will not continue as superintendent of the poor farm. Dr. A. F. Koch will receive 4 votes to his 1. The latter will take charge of the poor farm on March 1. Henry Smith was re-elected overseer of the county roads and the watchmen, janitors and firemen in the county buildings were reappointed.

The committee from the city council, consisting of Aldermen Cox, Sorenson and Oie, appeared before the board in regard to devising some means for giving employment to idle men. The matter was referred to the committee and poor, Commissioners Swenson, Butchart and Miller. They were given power to act.

J. W. Marvin appeared before the board and offered his abstract books to the county for $5000. No action was taken.

The board adjourned to Jan. 20.

WILL START THE WORK.

Tower People Will Begin the Building of a County Road.

The construction of a tote road from Vermilion lake to the gold fields near Fort Francis is now an assured fact. Yesterday afternoon a committee of the most prominent citizens of Tower, headed by Fred Barrett, appeared before the county commissioners, at their regular monthly meeting, and presented a petition for and submitted a map of the proposed road, which is to run from the most northerly available point on Lake Vermilion to the most southerly available point on Lake La Croix, and which will be about twenty to twenty-five miles in length. The commissioners, one and all, favored the proposition of the Towerites, who were also aided seconded in their efforts by the transportation committee of the jobbers' union, but they were unable to give a formal assent to the petition until the legal procedure in such cases had been complied with. However, they gave assurance to the petitioners that the petition would ultimately be granted, and that was thereupon resolved to make a start upon the work tomorrow. To be legal a county grant to build a county road can only be made after a road petition has been filed, setting forth the exact starting and terminal points of the road, so as to show that it is in the county granting the aid.

In reference to the statements from irresponsible sources that the insurance companies intended to contest the claim of Levine Bros. for their recent loss of fire, the firm states that there is nothing whatever in this report. As to the amount of the loss is determined, which is now in progress in the regular way, their claims will be settled in full.

The Gehl's Good Work.

Rev. Dr. Satter has received the following letter from a lawyer in this city, which is a gratifying testimonial to the good work of the Bethel: "I am impressed by the great work that is being done by the Bethel, and the relief it attends to the needy and unfortunate of this city. The feature that commends it most to my mind is that a small amount of money is made to relieve a great many wants. You can rely upon me to pay $25 the coming year. I trust I shall feel able later to increase that amount."

A SWELL DINNER.
An Exclusive Social Affair in Colored Circles Given Last Evening.

A very swell banquet, the most exclusive affair ever given in the colored social circle in Duluth, was given last evening at the home of Mrs. H. J. Shelton, 17 East Fourth street, by the Chrysanthemum club, composed of five young men: W. B. Richardson, president; E. A. Banks, vice president; J. Arthur Banks, secretary; W. E. Gassaway, corresponding secretary; H. C. Richardson, treasurer. The house was profusely decorated with chrysanthemums, snails and roses. The guests were received by W. B. Richardson and at 9:30 o'clock sat down to the tables. The following was the menu:

Blue Point on Half Shell. Olives. Consomme a la Reine. From or Potatoes. Roast Ballou Duck. Fried Apple Jelly. Creamed Sweet Potatoes. Chicken a la Maitre d'Hotel. Stuffed Almonds. Assorted Cakes. Fruit. Cream Cheese. Domino Tea. Crackers and Coffee.

Those present were: Misses Etta Moxley, Tillie Tolbert, Emma Moxley, Aneta and Viola Berry, of St. Paul, and the five members of the club.

The Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Spiritual and Liberal Research society was held last evening in the Hunter block and the following officers elected: Mrs. Mary L. McGindly, president; J. Brown, first vice president; R. C. Mitchell, second vice president; H. C. Boderick, secretary; J. C. Schaler, treasurer; T. H. Story, H. E. Hanson and J. P. Dodge, trustees.

A number of lectures are to be brought here this year.

A MASTERPIECE DESTROYED.

A Valuable Painting Ruined During Removal in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Jan. 3.—The fact was today made public that a $100,000 canvas masterpiece was wrecked at the Laclede building last Saturday afternoon. "Le Roi S'Amuse" is the catalogue name of the painting, and it is from the brush of Jules Arsene Garnier, a Frenchman, who did the greatest work of his life when he executed this.

The picture was being moved Saturday from the room of the late St. A. Cole in the Laclede building. Three men were holding the valuable canvas, and when it reached the first story it struck the floor. Instead of stopping the elevator, the boy gave the lever a shove and down the lift plunged to the basement. There was splintering of glass, rending of canvas and "Le Roi S'Amuse" was torn to ribbons.

The painting is the property of a banker who declines to allow his name to be published. After being shown in England it was brought to America and exhibited at New Orleans. St. A. Cole, one of the best art connoisseurs America ever knew, secured it for the St. Louis exposition, but it was never allowed a place in the art gallery. It was declared improper by the committee.

The Most Pleasant Way.

Of preventing the grippe, colds, headaches, and levers is to use the liquid laxative remedy Syrup of Figs, whenever the system needs a gentle, yet effective cleansing. To be benefited one must get the true remedy, manufactured by Dr. F. C. DRENNING, Fig Syrup company only. For sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles.

Eight letters and four syllables. Mix them, and you have nothing. But properly arranged they make a word familiar to the civilized world—a word that stands for all that is pure, energetic, and effective in medicine.

Think of it. From a small beginning, against prejudice and opposition, against monied hosts and trade indifference CUTICURA has become the greatest curative of its time.

No power on earth could bar its progress because it did its appointed work.

In every clime and with every people it has worked wonders. Its cures have approached the miraculous.

$5,000,000 Have been expended in advertising it. But $1,000,000,000 Could not purchase the daily commendations of its grateful friends. Such praise cannot be purchased.

This is the secret of its success—of its world-wide popularity—of its wonderful sale—of its constant growth. It is stamped upon the hearts of the once tortured, disfigured, and humiliated everywhere, never to be effaced while life shall last.

Such in brief is CUTICURA, the curative marvel of the age.

POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, Boston, U. S. A.

ARE THEY COMMONPLACE

And Does the Very Frequency of the Appearance of These Statements Blind You to the Depth of Their Meaning?

Does the very frequency of these statements, casual reader, cause you to pass them over as ordinary, commonplace matter?

Does the very fact that the Copeland physicians place before your eyes every week new statements from men and women well known to you—friends and neighbors in your community—cause you to regard them as ordinary matter not worthy of consideration?

Does their form and appearance grow so familiar to your eyes, blind you to the fact that each one of these statements is a chapter of a new life given—the story of a man or woman saved—the statement of a friend or neighbor, despondent through sickness and suffering, now so joyful over health restored as to be glad and anxious that all the world should know what has been accomplished?

Note carefully the statement given below showing the effects of catarrh.

Mr. E. G. Smith, a well-known resident of West Duluth who lives at 24 Sixth avenue west, and is employed by the West Duluth Electric company, has been treated by the Copeland physicians and gives them his hearty endorsement. The gentleman says:

"I suffered from catarrh of the nose and throat, but at times my whole system seemed to be affected. There was a dull heaviness in the front part of my head; my eyes were weak and watery. The catarrhal inflammation stopped my nose up so I couldn't breathe through it. Large quantities of mucus would drop from the back of my nose and accumulate in the throat and cause incessant hawking and spitting; my throat was tender and sore and greatly aggravated by the least use of tobacco. I often had pain in the small of my back, in the chest and in the stomach. While my appetite was good, I did not enjoy my food as I should. I did not rest well at night and arose in the morning as tired as I had been the night before. I had often heard of the Copeland physicians, but did not have much faith in them. However, after consulting a friend who had been treated by them, I decided to see if they could remedy my case, and now after taking a course of treatment, feel well and cannot say too much in favor of their system of treatment. They give the best of services and at rates which are decidedly reasonable.

All diseases treated at the uniform rate of $5.00 a month. Remember, this includes consultation, examination, treatment and medicine for all diseases and all patients.

NO QUORUM OBTAINED

Against the Republicans in the House Filibustered and the Tariff Debate Was Further Delayed.

Whenever the Yeas and Nays Were Called They Sat Mute and No Quorum Voted.

Mr. Boutelle Vainly Tried to Get Consideration of His Resolution in Regard to Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—There were signs of activity upon the floor of the house even before the hour of meeting today. The whips had been at work and like Hill, the deputy sergeant-at-arms, reported that a quorum of Democrats were in town. There was some doubt in the legislative mind as to the status of Mr. Boutelle's Hawaiian resolution, and it was not clear whether it was still the pending question before the house or whether the motion to take it up had been laid upon the table.

The question was soon brought to a test, for immediately after the reading and correction of the journal Mr. McMillin, representing the element desiring to take up the tariff bill, demanded the regular order. This speaker directed the call of committees for reports, holding that Mr. Boutelle's resolution had been laid upon the table by the adjournment. Mr. Boutelle sought to renew it and the speaker promised to recognize him after the call.

This formality over, Mr. Boutelle called up his resolution declaring against intervention in Hawaii and Mr. McMillin raised the question of consideration, desiring to take up the tariff bill. The speaker put the question and on a standing vote the house declined to take up Mr. Boutelle's resolution. The vote stood 35 in the affirmative and 128 in the negative. The yeas and nays were then ordered.

Here was the opportunity of the Republicans to test the strength of the Democrats, and following up yesterday's tactics, they sat mute. The result was that the vote on considering Mr. Boutelle's resolution stood yeas none, nays 150—a quorum, and at Mr. McMillin's request a call of the house was ordered. The call showed the presence of 209 members and again the yeas and nays were called on Mr. Boutelle's motion to consider his resolution.

The roll call showed yeas, 4; nays, 150; again no quorum, but the point was now made and the house at 1:40, at Mr. Wilson's instance, adjourned.

The Senate.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—A resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury for a statement of the sums paid to Mr. Blount as commissioner to Hawaii and the orders and law under which such payment was made was offered in the senate by Mr. Hoar and, on objection by Mr. Gorman, it went over without action. Mr. Gray gave notice that on Tuesday next he would move to proceed to the consideration of the house bill to repeal the federal election laws and that he would ask to have its consideration continued until a certain date shall be reached. At 1 p. m. the senate went into executive session. At 1:10 the senate adjourned till Monday next.

Killed in a Caboose.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 4.—D. J. Cushman and William Morrill were instantly killed and George Keifer was badly hurt in an accident on the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh road at Warsaw this morning. The train was proceeding westward, and was pulling out with a freight train.

A Salesman's Suicide.
FORT SCOTT, Kas., Jan. 4.—J. A. Sheehan, traveling salesman for the implement house of Buford & George, of Kansas city, went to the home of his parents at Arcadia, Crawford county, at 2 o'clock yesterday morning and went directly to an outbuilding and hanged himself by a trap from one of the traveling safes. He was 28 years of age and went home ostensibly to visit his parents. Dissipation is given as the cause.

Cutting Down Expenses.
ST. PAUL, Jan. 4.—A sensation was created in railroad and legal circles yesterday by the news that Cyrus Wellington, A. R. Wilkinson and Judge Campbell, in the legal department of the Great Northern, and Col. Crooks, the right-of-way agent, have been removed in the interest of economy.

A Republican Named.
ST. PAUL, Jan. 4.—Shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Governor Nelson announced that he had appointed Charles B. Elliott as judge of the district court of Hennepin county. Judge Elliott is at present judge of the municipal court, and is a Republican. Andrew Hoar was appointed Elliott's successor.

Could Not Stand Reproof.
CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 4.—Because his sweetheart reproved him for coming slightly under the influence of drink last night, young Arthur Bopp, brother of ex-Councilman John Bopp, of this city, sent a bullet through his brain this morning. He died instantly. No other cause than a few words of reproof from the girl he loved can be found for the act.

THE LEWELLING-LEASE ROW.

The Supreme Court Issued a Restraining Order Against Freeborn.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 4.—Hostilities were begun anew in the Lewelling-Lease embroglio this morning, the governor having persisted in Mrs. Lease's removal, regardless of the statute which states plainly that he has not the power to do so.

All efforts toward effecting a compromise have been discontinued and papers, which have been ready since Monday, were filed in the supreme court this morning in the case of Mrs. Lease against J. W. Freeborn, her would-be successor. The court issued a restraining order, forbidding Freeborn from acting or attempting to act as a member of the board and from interfering in any way with Mrs. Lease acting as a member of the board or in depriving her of any of the rights of the office.

Governor Lewelling said to a United Press reporter this morning that he was no longer a party to the case and that it now remained for the courts to determine whether Freeborn or Mrs. Lease was entitled to the office. He ventured the opinion, however, that the injunction granted would not hold, but qualified the assertion by saying: "There is no telling, however, what the court will do."

PLUMS FROM THE WHITE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—[Special to The Herald]—William Zwack was today appointed postmaster at Brockway, Stearns county, Minn., vice Lawrence Schamnik, resigned.

Owing to the absence from the city of Representative Tawney, the delegation has been unable to hold a meeting to consider Maj. Baldwin's bill for extending the Duluth customs district.

The president today sent to the senate the following nominations: John W. Ross, commissioner of the district of Columbia; Tully Brown, United States attorney for the middle district of Tennessee. Postmasters: Wisconsin—H. G. Ellsworth, Barron; N. H. Biddlecom, Minekaewanee; Fred Myers, Prentice. Minnesota—Arthur J. Flynn, Caladonia.

A VERY ROTTEN CONCERN.

It Had Two Secretaries and Each Absconded With the Funds.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Gross mismanagement and fraud in the affairs of the First National Building association are charged in a circuit court bill filed by James T. Tobin, Louis Pardee and other stockholders.

Since the association was incorporated, two years ago, they say it has had two secretaries who it is charged, have absconded with the contents of the cash drawer. During the same time only three checks were made. A receiver is asked for who will wind up the affairs and save the stockholders from further loss.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Delegates to the National Board Will Meet in Annual Session at Washington on Jan. 23.

Thirty-eight Subjects Have Been Outlined for Discussion, Being Proposed by Commercial Organizations.

Will be in Session Three Days, and its Recommendations Will Be Reported to Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The national board of trade, composed of delegates from various commercial organizations of the country, will meet in twenty-fourth annual session in Washington on Jan. 23. The sessions of this body are devoted to discussions of matters relating to the financial, commercial and transportation systems of the country, with a view to influencing the action of congress thereon by communicating to it the recommendations of the board. On the program for the coming meeting are thirty-eight subjects for discussion, proposed by various organizations, recommending the following legislation, or other action upon the projects and topics named:

By the New York board of trade and transportation—A bill authorizing the registration and protection of trade marks; commercial relations with neighboring countries upon broad and comprehensive principles of reciprocity; the tonnage bill; a national monetary currency; that third and fourth classes of mail matter be consolidated at eight cents a pound; a system of navigating naval reserves.

By the St. Louis bankers and merchants exchange—The Torrey bankruptcy bill; stimulation of commerce and trade with foreign countries; repeal of the interstate commerce law. The wholesale associated grocers of St. Louis, on the other hand, recommend the more thorough enforcement of the law and amendments thereto.

By the Philadelphia board of trade—The Torrey bankruptcy bill; an executive department of commerce and manufacture; no income tax; revision of the banking and currency laws; permanent establishment of the national banking system and retention of the state bank tax; no radical changes in the tariff laws; sale of $500,000 bonds to protect the treasury gold reserve.

By the Philadelphia grocers and importers exchange—No state bank circulation; construction of a canal to connect the Chesapeake, Delaware and Raritan bays.

By the Cincinnati chamber of commerce—A national bankruptcy law; amendments to the interstate commerce act that will relieve American railways of the competition of companies not subject to its operations; approve the interstate commerce law; a national clearing house; amendment to national bank act to prompt punishment of violation of its provisions; forfeiture of unearned land grants.

By the Chicago board of trade—Strict immigration laws and better enforcement of those now in existence; to protect the public and railroads from train robbery; to better enforce the interstate commerce law; prompt action upon the tariff bill; to issue per value of national bank currency for bonds deposited; to sell $500,000 fifty year 4 per cent bonds for redemption of currency notes.

By Boston Merchants' association—The reform of the consular service.

By the Cleveland chamber of commerce—Uniform classification of freight; expert monetary commission.

By the Toledo produce exchange—No state banks of issue.

By the Portland (Ore.) chamber of commerce—Government aid for the construction of the Nicaragua canal.

By the Trenton board of trade—The survey of a deep-draught ship canal between New York and Philadelphia.

By the Wilmington (Del.) board of trade—Improvement of the Delaware and Christina rivers.

By the Pittsburgh coal exchange—Improvement of the Monongahela river.

The national board will be in session three days, and its recommendations will be reported to congress by a committee appointed for that purpose.

JACKSON BETS ON CORBETT.

He Believes the American Champion Will Beat Mitchell.

CANTON, Ohio, Jan. 4.—Peter Jackson, who is here, says his money will go on Corbett if the bout with Mitchell comes off, of which he thinks there is much doubt. Jackson says the modern style of fighting is to hit and run away or dodge and then hit, and was too much for Sullivan in his fight with Corbett, because Corbett was too quick for Sullivan.

When asked whether he did not consider Corbett a much better man now than when he met him in San Francisco, he promptly said: "Yes, Corbett has doubtless improved in swiftness, science and strength. Still I am anxious to meet him, but I can't say that I can whip him, but I can say the country will know that there has been a fight."

Probably a Murder.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 4.—The young sister of George Farrar, a boy of 14, found his dead body in the woods near Greenville today, was a shot gun wound in the breast. Irfy McCarthen, another boy, is in jail for the murder. The two were seen fighting about a gun on Christmas day. McCarthen says he did the shooting, but claims self-defense.

A Railway Attached.
NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—An attachment for $3000 has been obtained against the Prescott & Arizona Central Railway company of Arizona in favor of the receivers of the Madison Square bank for unpaid interest due on Jan. 1 on $100,000 of the bonds of that company, which were held by the bank when it failed.

A DEAD SURE THING.

The Fight Certain to Occur in Jacksonville Now.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 4.—After consultation with their attorneys this morning the officers of the Duval Athletic club gave orders for placing 150 men at work on the arena in East Jacksonville. This is in addition to the present force. The club's lawyers say that the city ordinance protects the club and that nobody can stop it now. Clubmen and pugilists all agree that the fight is a dead sure thing.

Mitchell's manager wired the Duval club from St. Augustine today that the Englishman would do nothing in violation of law. He added, however, that his man would be on hand at the time and place fixed by the club. Mitchell read in today's paper that Corbett had signed the amended agreement, but as the signature read "James J. Corbett, per W. A. B." it didn't please him. He told Thompson that he feared chicanery.

Manager Bowden demands that Corbett put his personal signature to the articles. When this is done, he wants to scrutinize all four copies of the articles to see that the thing is done properly or to his satisfaction. The club feels very sanguine today that the contest will come off. Its attorneys advised the manager this morning to go right ahead with the construction of the arena.

This advice will be acted upon, though the arena will not be so costly nor so comfortable as it would have been had there been absolute certainty that the fight would not be interfered with.

IT WAS NOT ENDORSED.

Kansas Federation of Labor Did Not Approve the Tramp Circular.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 4.—H. M. Ives, of Topeka, the retiring president of the state federation of labor, returned today from Leavenworth, where he attended all the meetings of the federation this week. He says a press association sent out the information that the federation endorsed Lewelling's tramp circular in the resolutions. This, he says, is a mistake, for the circular was not mentioned in the convention.

The governor or some of his adherents sent over a big roll of the circulars to be distributed at the convention, but they came a long way from meeting the approval of the delegates. Governor Lewelling was himself scored in the resolutions. The governor had several Populists present to look after his interests, but they could not accomplish the desired result.

A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

One Man Killed and Three Dying in West Virginia.

FAIRMOUNT, W. Va., Jan. 4.—There was a frightful accident at the mines of the Monongahela Coal and Coke company, five miles from here yesterday afternoon, caused by a train of four loaded cars breaking loose from the tail rope on the inclined entry and running back where the miners were at work. Robert Ritter was crushed against the wall and died in a few hours. Fennimore Anderson was frightfully cut about the head and had his skull fractured. Frank Gallagher had his left arm crushed off and sustained other severe injuries. Both Gallagher and Anderson are expected to die.

WAS SHOT IN THE CHEST.

A Young Man Fatally Wounded While Defending His Father.

BEREA, Ohio, Jan. 4.—Between 11 and 12 o'clock last night four men accosted Webb Miller the night watchman, and seized him. Miller attempted to tear himself from the hands of the strangers, who informed him that their intentions were to loot the town with the watchman's assistance. He finally got hold of his revolver and ordered the robbers to throw up their hands. The latter began shooting. Miller's son, Edward, attracted by the shooting came to the rescue of his father and was shot through the left chest, receiving a fatal wound. The robbers escaped.

THEIR LIBERTY WAS SHORT.

Prisoners Escaped From a West Virginia Jail But Were Recaptured.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 4.—A special to the Evening Times says: The jail of Mineral county, W. Va., at Keider, was broken by five prisoners late yesterday evening, all of whom made good their escape. Among them was William Rhine, a crazy man who tried to wreck a West Virginia Central railway train a few days ago and afterwards tried to swallow a red hot poker. The men made their escape by sawing the lock of the main jail door in the absence of the jailor. Four of the five, including Rhine, were recaptured after a struggle late last night, but a notorious thief is still at large.

Greenhalge Inaugurated.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 4.—Frederick Thomas Greenhalge was inaugurated governor of the commonwealth at noon today before the members of the legislature, in joint convention, and a large number of citizens of both sections filled the gallery of the house of representatives.

Beaten to a Jelly.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—J. B. Aldrich, a butcher on West Harrison street, was assaulted and robbed of $600 in the rear of his store last night. The assault was committed by two men who used sharp instruments. Mr. Aldrich's head was almost beaten to a jelly and he will die.

Baron Crews Dead.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Baron Crews died last night from influenza at his residence, Crews hall, Crews, county of Chester. He was born in 1812.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The following pensions were granted today: Minnesota—George M. House, St. Paul; Lewis M. Story, Minneapolis; Catharine Johnson, Gotha, Wisconsin—William Zimmerman, National Military home.

RAINY LAKE CITY.
New Townsite to be Laid Out on the Boundary Line.

Surveyor Frank and a large party left today for Rainy lake where they will lay out the first town site ever laid out upon American soil upon the international boundary between Lake Superior and the Lake of the Woods. The name of the new town will be "Rainy Lake City" and will be situated in township 7-24 on a beautiful point of land in the narrow leading to Black bay, just opposite to what is known as "Shay-Shay's point." As soon as the platting is done, 100 acres in extent, work will be commenced upon a sawmill and enough logs will be cut from the townsite and two adjoining forty acres owned by the townsite company to furnish lumber for the erection of houses.

The site of Rainy Lake City is all that could be desired. The point juts out into deep water, and it is situated within a mile of the best gold fields in that vicinity. The townsite company is represented locally by W. C. Sherwood & Co., and comprises among its members several millionaires. The work at present will be superintended by John D. Weimer, and enough shovels will probably be hauled in this winter to last a large crew until next spring.

Duluth as a Steel Center.
Minneapolis. The city is able to get coal more cheaply than Chicago, and possessing abundance of ore within a few hours' haul, Duluth is in the near future to leave Chicago in the rear as a producer of pig iron and Bessemer steel. Indeed, Duluth has superior resources as a producer of pig iron and steel to Pittsburgh. The latter gets its ore from Minnesota and pays in transportation of the ore fully 50 cents a ton more than Duluth would have to pay in the transportation of Pennsylvania coal to Minnesota. Duluth can use its furnaces thousands of tons of cheap ore at nominal prices, ore which is not considered high enough grade to ship East and is now either thrown into the waste pile or left undeposited.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Jan. 4.—The barometer is lowest in the eastern lake region and Arkansas. It is highest in the region northwest of Duluth. An inch since yesterday has been accompanied by a fall of 10 to 20 degrees in temperature.
Light snow or rain has fallen in the Upper Mississippi valley. South Dakota and Montana.
The temperature has fallen 10 to 20 degrees in the Upper Mississippi valley. At St. Paul it was 2 degrees below zero this morning.
Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 14
degrees above zero; minimum yesterday, 26 degrees above zero; maximum for twenty-four hours, 18 degrees.

Duluth, Jan. 4.—Local forecast until 8 p. m. today: Cloudy with snow flurries, followed Friday by fair; colder tonight and Friday; northerly winds; variable winds.

Local Forecast Office.
The Pioneer Fuel company sells the best grades of coal, and from the low prices now in effect give liberal discounts for cash and mail orders.
Office, 220 West Superior street.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Forecast until 8 p. m. tomorrow: For Wisconsin: Fair, colder in western portion tonight; winds west to north.
For Minnesota: Generally fair; colder in eastern portion tonight; variable winds.

To Restore the Duty.
The Democratic caucus on the tariff bill is to be held at Washington tonight, and it is stated that Mr. Wilson is willing that the bill should be amended in some particulars, while Congressman Wheeler, of Alabama, asserts that a small tariff will be put on iron ore and bituminous coal.

This is good news, and the people of St. Louis county will trust that it may prove true. Mr. Wilson has evidently felt the full force of the strong protests which have come from various parts of the country against certain features of his measures, and many Democratic congressmen have experienced so much pressure from their constituents to vote against the bill in its present shape that Mr. Wilson finally agreed to the adoption of amendments to save the measure from defeat.

It is to be hoped that the advocates of a tariff on iron ore will not yield in the fight that they have begun and that they will not compromise on a small duty that will be practically no protection at all. The existing duty of 75 cents a ton should not be changed. It is not too high, and therefore should not be reduced. In fact its increase would be beneficial to the ore interests of this country.

It is rather amusing, however, to contemplate the position in which those who have been upholding the idea of free iron ore are placed by Mr. Wilson's willingness to amend the bill in this particular. According to the resolution adopted at the free ore meeting at the city hall and the manifesto subsequently issued in its support, the Wilson bill will cease to be a Democratic measure, when so amended. But of course this idea is based upon the presumption that those who passed those resolutions are authorized to decide who is a Democrat and who is not.

The Municipal Elections.
The idea of calling an early convention of the Republicans to select a candidate for mayor has been credited to some members of the city committee. There was a rumor yesterday that the convention would be called to meet next week.
The Herald trusts that such a move will not be made, because it would unduly prolong the campaign. There is no good reason why a municipal campaign should last more than a week, or ten days at the most. Certainly no good purpose would be served by making a lengthy campaign, with all its disturbance of business and the usual bitter feeling that seems inseparable from every election.

There are many men in the Republican ranks who would ably fill the position of mayor. This is equally true of the Democratic party. The main thing is to have the best men placed in nomination, and this desirable result would likely be defeated if the primaries were brought on suddenly before the people had a chance to consider the relative claims of the various candidates. It would not do any harm if the calls for both the Republican and Democratic conventions were issued at once, but the primaries should not be held until about the last week in the present month.

An Excellent Plan.
The prompt manner in which the common council and the county commissioners have responded to The Herald's appeal to provide work for the unemployed men is deserving of the highest commendation. It is gratifying to learn that there is now a good prospect that arrangements will be made whereby every idle man can be at work within ten days.

The plan which has met with most favor is to give the men work getting rock on Superior street between Piedmont avenue and Fourteenth avenue west, and also West Sixth street near Cascade square. The city uses from 2000 to 4000 yards of rock every year and pays $1.50 a yard for it, and the amount needed for the coming year might just as well be secured now, thus furnishing work when it is needed, instead of purchasing it from contractors next summer. City orders can be issued in payment of the labor and the county will cash them, a plan which effectually disposes of any financial difficulty.

In the Superior Leader a few days ago, there was a brief interview with John G. Brown, of Duluth, who said:
"Yes, I favor free ore and the Wilson bill and any one who does not is not a Democrat." Some good friend should at once telegraph this sentence to the Democratic members of congress, or they may find themselves outside the party breakwaters tomorrow morning.

A Minneapolis paper had a Duluth dispatch yesterday, stating that the first of the Great Northern passenger steamers was launched that day at Cleveland.
This is erroneous. The first of these fine vessels, which is to be called the Northwest, will be launched next Saturday.

The rumor that J. W. Scott would retire from the management of the Chicago Herald and was likely to purchase the St. Paul Globe is denied. Mr. Scott will remain with the Herald, of which he is part owner, and has not had the slightest intention of quitting the institution which he has made such a splendid success.

The unemployed men in Duluth want work, not charity, and it now looks as if the campaign started in their behalf by The Herald will result in work being provided for all within a few days.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles says that he considers football about as brutal as any sport fighting. He might have truthfully added that it is also more dangerous than serving in the army these days.

Several faith cure fanatics in Portland, Ore., decided to laugh to scorn the hard times by going without eating during the winter. One will not eat any more. The others are in the hospital.

Vaillant, the French anarchist who threw the dynamite bomb in the chamber of deputies, was addicted to the cigarette habit. His defense will probably be paresis.

The city debt of St. Paul has been reduced $78,955 during the past nineteen months. St. Paul is to be congratulated.
If Duluth could only make an equally good showing!

Mayorality candidates are becoming numerous. May the best men get the nominations, and then there need be little concern about the result of the election.

The News Tribune asserts again today that it is a Republican paper. Who is the vile wretch that has disputed this fact?

Cayenne, N. D., is a small place that is gaining some notoriety as a divorce center. Of course, it is a red hot town.

If the governor of Florida had ever seen a football game he would permit the Corbett-Mitchell fight to proceed.

J. Sloan Fassett wants to run again for governor of New York. Some men do not know when they have enough.

The Populist row in Kansas may give John J. Ingalls a new Lease of public life.

A Pretty Sure Sign.
Chicago Times: When an undertaker's wife adjusts a noose about her neck while standing on a barrel, puts a revolver to her temple, blows her brains out, kicks the barrel away, breaks her neck and is discovered hanging by the neighbors, it is a sign that she was tired of life. And a woman in Millville, Pa., did all this Monday morning.

Knows How to Sharpen an Ax.
Allentown City Item: The first rush of the McKinley boom being over, Mr.
B. Harrison has taken the road for a little sport, and is rigging up a few blind ditches along the road that will be traveled by the McKinley nag.

The Servant Girl Question.
The servant girl problem has reached a point that threatens serious consequences, not to say a crisis, in family cabinets. A cook in New York, on being requested to leave, indignantly refused and emphasized her declaration that she liked the place by bombarding her mistress with hot flat-irons. This is a striking instance of the irony of fate as exhibited in domestic life.

Buffalo Bill's Platform.
Bangor Commercial: The Boston Record is for Buffalo Bill for governor of Nebraska and intimates that on such a platform as "cut rates to all Nebraskans to the Wild West Show" he would be simply invincible. William might have a chance to get a great pull for the presidency on a platform like that.

Dabbled in the Same Mess.
Providence Journal: The Republicans are debared from making much of a protest against the admission of Utah, New Mexico and Arizona by the fact that they have had some of the pork out of the same barrel.

Entirely Out of Place.
Ashland News: Hon. Thomas Lynch, the able representative in congress from this district, in the interview published in the Milwaukee Sentinel, very correctly said that putting ore on the free list was "a sop" for certain Eastern manufacturers. Such "sops" are appropriate in a protection affair like the McKinley tariff, but are out of place in a revenue law.

NEW YEAR'S DONATIONS.

Contributions to the Home for Women and Children.
The Women and Children's home was not forgotten during the holiday season, and many donations were received. On Saturday evening the children were gladdened by a Christmas tree handsomely decorated with shiny gold and colored lanterns and bright hued paper chains, made by the children at the kindergarten conducted by Misses May Sherwood and Helen Spencer. Intertwined were strings of popcorn and berries, dolls and everything imaginable in the line of toys. At 6 o'clock the little folks marched and sang, and a pretty Christmas carol followed. Old Santa Claus bounded in about that time with a big pack from which he produced toys and presents innumerable. Each of the women in the home received a gift. The New Year's donations to the home were unusually liberal and were as follows:

CAPT. RAY T. LEWIS FOR MAYOR.

Many People Think He Would be a Good Man for the Place.

Many friends of Capt. Ray T. Lewis are urging his availability as a candidate for mayor, and if the captain will consent to make the race there is no doubt that he will make it very interesting for other aspirants for the office. Capt. Lewis has lived in Duluth for many years and has a very wide acquaintance among the voters, and his popularity is unquestioned. He is not actively engaged in business at the present time, and is therefore in a position to devote to the duties of the mayoralty, all the time that the office requires. This is a very important point, as the business of the city has grown very rapidly in recent years and has now reached a stage which has had the close attention of the chief executive.

Capt. Lewis has a clean record. He has always taken a keen interest in everything tending to advance the interests of Duluth and the whole head of the lake, and has ever been at the front in every movement which has had that object in view. A good, keen business man, bound to no clique or corporation, he would discharge the duties of the office with ability and with evenhanded justice to all. The captain is genial in his manner, approachable by every one and liberal in his ideas. His many friends therefore believe that he would be an ideal candidate, and they are confident that, if nominated, he would receive the votes of a large majority of the enlarged city of Duluth. Thus they assert, without any disparagement of the claims or abilities of other gentlemen who have been mentioned as probable candidates.

There is no doubt that if convinced that there is a general desire that he should enter the field, Capt. Lewis would consent, because he has never shirked any of the duties of citizenship and it is the duty of every citizen to respond to a call of this character.

IT WAS DIVORCE DAY.

Four Separation Cases on the Calendar Today and Three Were Heard Before Noon Adjournment.

Three More Are to be Before the Court Tomorrow—Other Proceedings This Morning.

Judge Ensign Has Handed Down His Decision in the Superior Woolen Mill Cases.

This was divorce day in the district court, three cases being heard this morning and another was down for this afternoon. Judge Lewis heard one, James O. Rodney vs. Mary Rodney, colored people. There was no appearance of the defendant and the witnesses were examined. The charge was improper intimacy with other persons. The judge ordered a judgment for divorce.

Two cases were heard before Judge Moore and in neither one was there any appearance of the defendant. The first taken up was Fannie Bonathan vs. William H. Bonathan. Cruel and inhuman treatment was charged and findings were ordered for the plaintiff. Eric A. Westrom vs. Charlotte Westrom was the other and the plaintiff complained that his wife, the defendant, hurled abusive language at him. Judge Moore heard the evidence and took the matter under advisement, not being satisfied that the use of abusive language is sufficient ground for getting a divorce.

Tomorrow three more divorce cases are on the calendar for hearing. Before Judge Lewis the case of Parris T. Norton vs. Duluth Street railway was tried and submitted. John Karby vs. Alfred Young et al. was stricken, there being no appearance of the parties. Henry P. Gill secured a judgment against the Mutual Fire Insurance company, of Chicago, the defendant failing to appear. In the Portsmouth Trust and Guarantee company vs. John McKinley et al. the defendant did not appear and judgment against James Killings for $5000 was entered.

WOOL CASES DECIDED.

Judge Ensign Files His Findings in the Suits Against E. J. Salt.

Judge Ensign has filed his findings of fact and conclusions of law in the Superior wool cases in which Enoch J. Salt & Son were concerned. When they failed a number of parties who had consignments of wool in transit stopped them at Duluth. A bank in Portsmouth, Ohio, seized these shipments under a writ of attachment. The owners brought suit against Sheriff Sharpy to recover and have been granted judgments. Judge Ensign decided that the defendant took the wool while the plaintiffs were entitled to possession, they having exercised their right of stoppage in transit prior to the taking of the wool. Judgments were rendered as follows: H. Hodgson and H. W. Ous, $5000.15; H. Hodgson and James Wing, $1022.15; H. Hodgson and C. Armstrong, $1801.27; H. Hodgson and H. Lewis, $3010.87; J. D. Sears, $2330.71; John Gleason, $8490.30. Judge Ensign has made an order allowing plaintiff to proceed with execution in the case of S. F. Snively vs. W. C. Bond. The defendant filed a notice of appeal and bond, but the plaintiff claimed this was done only to delay execution. The motion to enforce judgment was granted at the special term on Saturday last.

Charles L. Edmonds has brought suit against Charles Carlson, H. C. Hanson, Duluth & Iron Range railway and Weston Bros., for work and labor furnished in the roadbed of the Iron Range road, between Virginia and McKinley, to the value of $254.40. He asks judgment for the amount and a mechanic's lien.

Other papers filed were: Replies to defendant's answers in case of Rochester Loan and Banking company vs. W. P. Strickland et al. Answer in Jones & Laighton, limited vs. Clyde Iron company.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed, you have a running sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result. Deafness is cured by Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. It is taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing being thereby restored. Every case cured out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. Send for circular, free. E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

WORK FOR THE NEEDY

Another Meeting of the Aldermen and Commissioners at Which the Question Was Fully Discussed.

Establishment of a Woodyard Not Considered Feasible—Breaking Rock Finds More Favor.

Work Will Probably be Under Charge of the Board of Public Works and Engineer.

The special committee appointed by the council Monday night to investigate ways and means for employing idle and needy men in the city, met with the county commissioners at the city hall this morning for the purpose of arriving at some joint understanding in the matter. Aldermen Cox, Oie and Sorenson, the members of the aldermanic committee were present and Commissioners Butchart, Swenson, Poirier and Miller represented the county interests. Alderman Cox was chosen chairman and a full and free discussion was given the question.

Commissioner Butchart said that a wood yard had been mentioned, but it did not favor that. In the first place the ordinary laborer is not a skilled chopper, and in many cases would not cut more than half a cord a day. In the second place, all the available timber is three and four miles back, and by the time the workmen tramped out and back they would have a very limited time in which to work. Then, again, wood is a drug on the market and a general cutting of it would work a hardship to the many small dealers in the city who now find it difficult to make ends meet in the business. Only a short time ago, a man with a horse and wagon brought a load of wood onto the street and it was eight days before he sold it. That was all he wanted of the wood business. At Tower the country had about 700 cords cut. When it was found that only 50 cents a cord would be paid less than forty men took work. Commissioner Butchart thought that in the case of single men the best plan is to furnish them money to go to work in the woods when employment is guaranteed. Married men are on a different footing, for if they go to the woods, they get only about $12 a month, which will still leave their families on the hands of the public to care for.

The members of the aldermanic committee thought that some men could be put to work at once on rock work. The opening of West Superior street will be imperative in the course of time and it will have to be done from the general fund. For that reason, if the waterworks can be used on street work and much can be sold to contractors and builders. In the long run the city would be benefited by the work. The contract is all ready to be let for the improvement of West Sixth street from Cascade to the corner of Fourth avenue. That matter will be brought before the council. There are other places in the city where rockwork can be conducted to great advantage. If the waterworks bonds are sold next Monday evening, work can be commenced at once on the paving station at W. C. Sargent avenue. The ground for immediate arrangements can be made with him.

Commissioner Poirier thought there was doubt about that. The city would have to cash city orders and then turn them back to the city later on in lieu of money due the city from taxes. These city orders are on a different footing, and many stores will take them gladly. The plan considered the most feasible was to have the work under charge of the board of public works and the engineer. Men who want work will be required to present to the foreman orders to that effect from the alderman in their ward or from one of the commissioners.

Recommendations in accordance with the above ideas will be made by the council next Monday night, but before that time the committee and the commissioners will meet again for the purpose of taking action upon any new developments in the matter. One thing is certain, however, that work of some kind will be furnished in some way, and in accordance with a motion by Alderman Sorenson, $1.25 per day will be paid. The relief will also be especially designed for heads of families.

THE CALL PREPARED.

The Republican City Convention to be Held on January 23.

A meeting of the city Republican committee was held last night in Chairman Holiday's office. Some action was taken in the apportionment of delegates from the new wards, as no accurate account of the number of voters could be obtained. The apportionment, which was finally based on the vote for Governor Nelson, gives the entire city forty-nine delegates but will not be finally completed until this evening. The Republican primaries will be held between 7 and 9 o'clock on Monday, Jan. 22, and the convention on the following day, Tuesday, Jan. 23, at the city hall.

All kinds of Silks among them—black and colored, fancy and plain—enough for waists, enough for big sleeves, enough for a trimming, and in some cases enough for a whole dress.

BILLS WILL NOT PASS.

Little Chance That Any of the Duluth Bridge Bills Will Be Passed This Session.

No Local Bill Not Supported by the Entire State Delegation Can Secure Any Consideration.

The Two West Virginia Senators Will Stand Out for a Duty on Iron Ore.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—[Special to The Herald.]—The legislative mill of the national government is again in operation, and it may be interesting to note just what Minnesota may expect in the way of national legislation during the remainder of the first session of the Fifty-third congress. Various measures have been presented in which Duluth is particularly interested, the most important of which are the several bridge bills now before congress. Maj. Baldwin seems to be confident that the bill he has presented (that of the Duluth and Superior bridge company), which was a compromise bill with Representative Haugen, of Wisconsin, will become a law before the expiration of the present session, while others seem to be just as confident that neither this bill nor the one presented by Senator Davis will receive favorable consideration by either the house or senate.

So many measures of national importance will occupy the attention of the members at this session that no local bill which is not supported by the entire delegation of the state will stand the least chance of becoming a law. Next in importance to the bridge bill is the plan of Representative Baldwin for a readjustment of the boundaries of the Duluth customs district. It will be recalled that this matter was referred to the Minnesota delegation for an opinion as to the advisability of this change, and it is pretty generally understood that this is the last that will be heard of it.

Representative Boen, during the extraordinary session, presented a tariff bill providing that all foreign goods intended for exchange for American products might be imported free of duty, but this measure is so chimerical that it will probably never be given any serious consideration. Outside of these bills no measures of any consequence have been presented by the Minnesota congressmen of local interest to their state.

The tariff still continues as a disturbing element, but that will probably be removed in time to allow of a readjustment on the new lines of tariff policy before the close of the year 1894. The outlook in regard to tariff changes is much brighter than it was a few weeks ago. It is evident that the Wilson bill will be greatly modified in its passage through the two houses, and especially by the senate, and the changes to be made in it will be in the direction of restoring some measure of protection to American industries.

The two senators from West Virginia have announced that they will stand out for a duty of from 45 to 50 cents per ton on iron ore as a compromise, and their example will undoubtedly be followed by many other Southern and Western senators, only that they will probably demand that the present rate of 75 cents per ton remain unchanged.

Fatal Explosion.
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—At 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon an explosion occurred at the New York Oxygen works, First avenue and Twenty-second street. Thomas Gregg, 20 years old, of 350 East Twenty-first street, was instantly killed. James Moran, aged 22, of 350 First avenue, had his right leg broken and Fred E. Gardner, aged 50, of 22 Warwick street, Brooklyn, was injured about the legs and body.

A Postmaster in Trouble.

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, dulness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nervous centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve fluid force. This is known as the nerve system, and it is the source of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system, as will be seen by the accompanying cut. The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve force from the brain to every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to regard this fact; instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause of the disorder, they treat the symptoms, and so the disease is never cured.

Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., the highly celebrated specialist and student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the subject, has since realized the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nerve Tonic is prepared on this principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nerve system is beyond question, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manifest. The remedy is simply given.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve Tonic is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, neuritis, dizziness, neuralgia, social debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee. Send direct for the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. Restorative Nerve Tonic contains no opiates or dangerous drugs.

THE TRIAL OF VAILLANT.

Usual Amount of Muddle-Headed Sympathy for the Prisoner.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—A dispatch from Paris says: A circular signed by a group of freemen has been sent to the Vaillant jury asking them to acquit the prisoner on the ground that he used the only means in the workman's power for limiting the cupidity. The police gave Judge Cases's dwelling extra guards tonight in response to the earnest appeals of persons living in the same block.

The latest statement as regards Vaillant's application for a postponement is as follows: The court rejected the application but in consequence of M. Adelbert's action in refusing to keep his brief, the trial probably will be postponed. After M. Adelbert renounced his brief the court appointed M. Labou to defend Vaillant, but he refused the case on the ground that he had no little time for preparation. It is said that Deputy Lemier, who was injured by the explosion in the chamber has offered to testify for the defense.

The Paris correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says that M. Lemier is not the only respectable person who has offered to help Vaillant. "There is the usual amount of muddle-headed sympathy," he says, "for the interesting prisoner."

A TRAGEDY IN TEXAS.

Charles Clay Mortally Wounded and Dr. W. H. Waters Killed.

BRENNHAM, Tex., Jan. 5.—At Independence, Washington county, late yesterday afternoon, there was a difficulty between Charles Clay and Aaron Shannon, two young men, 16 and 10 years respectively. Shannon opened fire on Clay, two balls taking effect, one in the chin and the other in the stomach, and it is believed he is mortally wounded.

Clay drew his six-shooter to return the fire and commenced shooting just as Dr. W. H. Waters reached the scene to stop the difficulty, and the first bullet from Clay's pistol struck the doctor in the shoulder, killing him instantly. Dr. Waters was a prominent and influential citizen.

Recently Schmitt has been conducting Hotel Amity.

Monte Carlo Scared.

NICE, Jan. 5.—In consequence of threats that have been made to blow up the Casino at Monte Carlo, everybody who enters the gambling houses there is cautioned to see that he does not carry dynamite. Some of the high patrons of the place objected so vigorously to this process, that an exception is made in the cases of persons who are well known to the police and attendants. All others, however, have to submit to be searched before they can get into the gaming tables.

MET AN AWFUL DEATH.

A Man Who Has Not Been Identified Run Over by a Grip Car in Chicago.

His Body Severed Completely Above the Waist Before the Gripman Could Stop the Train.

Fifty-Two Prisoners Now Behind the Gratings of Cook County Jail Charged With Murder.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—A man who was not identified, but is supposed to have been a peddler, met a frightful death last night while he was attempting to board a Milwaukee avenue grip train. His body was severed completely above the waist before the gripman could stop the train. None of the trainmen apparently saw him fall. He must have been stunned, for he made no outcry.

He fell with his head inside the rail, and was rolled some distance. When the wheels passed over him, that side of the car was raised off the track. The conductor knew something was wrong and signaled the gripman to stop. Before the train was stopped three trailers were over his body. When found the two portions of the man's body were some feet apart. Nothing to identify him was found on his person.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Fifty-Two Prisoners in Chicago Awaiting Trial For Murder.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Fifty-two prisoners are now waiting behind the iron-barred gratings of Cook county jail charged with murder. Besides this large number of men who are to be tried for their lives, over 500 other prisoners, charged with almost every crime on the calendar, are in jail awaiting trial.

At no time has the county jail been so completely crowded with prisoners as within the last few months. Not a cell is empty. Few contain less than two prisoners. In many instances three and even four persons are crowded within the narrow walls of a single cell. The women's quarters are as full as the men's. But since the release of Anastasia Bichke, a few months ago, no woman remains there under the charge of murder.

PEIXOTO'S FORCES WON.

Report of a Fight in Brazil Lost by the Rebels.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—A special dispatch to the United Press from Lisbon says that in a fight that occurred at Rio Negro, in the state of Santa Catharina, Brazil, between the government forces and the insurgents, the former were victorious.

The insurgents lost forty killed and nineteen prisoners. The day on which the engagement took place is not given. A number of guns and a quantity of munitions of war fell into the hands of the government forces.

The dispatch adds that on Dec. 15, 16 and 17 the insurgent warships Amazona, Guanabara, Almirante Tamandare and Jupiter, aided by three bar ches, bombarded Rio Janeiro. Many persons were killed or wounded. Ensign Goncalves, a member of the national guard, was killed by the explosion of a gun. Some of the splinters thrown by the explosion were scattered over the British bark Balakava, lying near Cobras island.

The dispatch further says that Fort Lago, held by the government, fired on the steamer Ruapehu, which was attempting to force the bar, and compelled her to retire. The government newspaper Otempo has suspended.

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Jan. 5.—A petition signed by over 2000 property owners and voters was filed today with the local woolmen to Hon. J. C. Burrows, member of the ways and means committee at Washington, protesting against placing the wool trade in the hands of a free list. The wool men selected Mr. Burrows, a Republican, in preference to the district congressman, T. M. Paschal, on account of the difference in their views on the wool problem.

Howard was last night sentenced to nine years in the penitentiary at Columbus, Ohio, and fined $1000 by Judge Hammond, of the federal court, and taxed by the costs, about $2000. A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Sol Collins, His Wife and Four Children Will Probably Die.

WEST PLAINS, Mo., Jan. 5.—A terrible accident happened Wednesday at the home of Sol Collins on Spring creek, news of which has just reached here. Collins sat by an open fire place with a keg of blasting powder beside him. He threw some of the powder into the fire, thinking it too damp to burn. A terrible explosion followed tearing the roof from the house and burning more or less eight persons. The only way any of their lives was saved was by jumping into a creek which runs close to the house. The doctor thinks Collins and wife and four children will die.

Killed From Ambush.

BESSEMER, Ala., Jan. 5.—James Hartman, a prominent young planter and member of the legislature, was killed from ambush at the end of the evening while passing through a field on his farm. Several days ago he had a negro arrested for stealing hogs. Wednesday the negro got out on bail. He is suspected and a posse is hunting for him. The sheriff left here with bloodhounds. A lynching will be the outcome.

Short of Money.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times, after referring to the recent large defections from the Agrarian league and the growing opposition among its members to the demagogues of its leaders, adds: "The league is also short of money. The league's newspaper is distributed gratis. It has lost already £8500 and there are no profits. It is impossible to establish other papers, only upon a paying basis."

The Report Was False.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 5.—Two days ago an evening paper stated that Cyrus Wellington, A. R. Wilkinson and Wells Campbell, of the Great Northern legal department, and Col. Crocker, right of way agent, had been relieved of their positions by President Hill. The statement is absolutely untrue. When asked about the matter President Hill said: "I know nothing about the matter whatever. I have not even read what the evening paper says."

Firebugs at Work.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 5.—A dastardly attempt was made to destroy Walnut Ridge, Ark., by fire yesterday morning. Land & Lester's lively stable, with vehicles was burned. Williams & Co.'s hay store was fired at the same time, and the fire spread to the stable. The firemen fought the fire, but the watchman frightened the incendiaries away.

Navies Panic Stricken.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Chronicle says: "Chinese robbers are pillaging on the outskirts of Vladivostok and along the coast of the Amur, in course of construction. The navies, who are Cosacks, are panic stricken as they are menaced with an open attack."

The guests, hurriedly dressed themselves and made a mad rush for the street, taking to all three of the entrances to the hotel. The fire was slight and easily extinguished.

An Ironical Remark.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—The Kleinke Journal says: "Upon hearing of the result of the Angouleme trial the emperor remarked ironically: 'These Frenchmen are always unintentionally working for the king of Prussia,' implying thus that by angering the Italians the Frenchmen in this case had driven them to closer intimacy with Germany."

A JAPANESE FESTIVAL.

The Emperor's Birthday Fete a Study in Cosmopolitan Fines and Customs.

The emperor's birthday occurring on the 31 of November, and the foreign minister gives a ball on that occasion, to which all the representatives of foreign countries and as many others as are deemed worthy of attention are invited. Our introduction had been sufficient to secure invitations, and having conferred with the chaplain he approved of my purpose to attend as a matter of education in ethnology. For the emperor's birthday ball, you must know, is a cosmopolitan affair. It was given on this occasion in the building called the Tokonon, in which both the Nobles club and the Tokio club have quarters. The building and its approaches were a blaze of light worthy to celebrate the birthday of the descendant of the sun goddess.

Inside the decorations were such as only the Japanese could make. They included wealth of chrysanthemums lining the corridors, great artificial sections of cryptomeria, the bark and foliage real, fruit trees with fruit upon them, and a broad expanse carrying the coat of arms of the emperor, made of foliage and flowers. The guests were received by Vice Foreign Minister Hayashi and his wife because of the illness of the wife of Mr. Matsun, the foreign minister. I will not undertake to describe the company. The emperor and empress were not there. There were several imperial princes and princesses, quite a sprinkling of the old nobility, a full representation of the official class and of course all the foreign representatives.

As may be imagined, the company was somewhat promiscuous, but as an ethnologist student of the Japanese, I was struck by the representative of "far Cathay" to the last globe trotter from America. The guests were entitled to the "cake," for they were dressed in frilled nightgowns and tall hats, which no other nationality ventured upon. Most of the Japanese ladies were in their own graceful costume. Those of them who were in European dress looked unnatural and painfully self-conscious. Japanese gentlemen were almost all in European dress. Many of the ladies, both Japanese and foreign, were expensively bejeweled.

The physical stature of the Japanese was manifestly below that of the Europeans, and the ladies of the various legations, in decorative costumes, towered above their eastern sisters and gave them an example of self assertion and social leadership which was sufficient to increase the celebrity of revolutionaries in Japan. But the Japanese as manifestly outshone all others in manners. Nothing can exceed the courtliness and grace of their address as they greet each other with the bow. Few ladies survive as a souvenir of the old regime. The number in attendance was about 800, and the spacious rooms of the princely building were too crowded for satisfactory dancing, though the programme of dances was carried out by the irrepressible young people of both sexes. There was an excellent supper provided, served, when the number of guests is considered, with most commendable efficiency.—Boston Herald.

The Dress of Paris.

The population of Paris is as remarkable for variety as that of London for uniformity of costume, for in Paris almost every class has its own distinctive dress. In England, and especially in London, the employer and his workmen, the millionaire and the cobbler, the greengrocer, wear costumes of the same pattern. In London, again, every workgirl, every market woman, wears a bonnet imitated more or less perfectly from those worn by ladies of fashion. In Paris, and workgirls in Paris wear neat white caps instead of ill made, it may be dilapidated bonnets; though the more aspiring among them reserve the right of appearing in a bonnet on Sundays and holidays.

The French workman wears a blouse and a cap, and looks upon the hat as a sign, not of superiority, at least of pretension. Owing to the varieties of dress already touched upon a crowd in Paris presents a less uniform, less monotonous appearance than the black coated mobs of London, and in harmony with the greater relief afforded by the different colors of the costumes are the animated gestures of the persons composing the crowd. Observe, indeed, a mere group of persons conversing on no matter what commonplace subject, or only chatting as they sip their coffee together on the boulevard, and they appear to be engaged in some violent dispute.—Old and New Paris.

Temperature of the Sun.

There is almost as much diversity as to the temperature of the sun as there is regarding the source of its heat. A recent belief of knowledge contains an article by Mr. Raynaud on the photosphere, suggested by two large photographs taken by Dr. Janssen. These show the apparent formation of the sun's surface, which is not all over, as Mr. Raynaud remarks, like the cirrus clouds in a mackerel sky. From the appearance of the sun as a sunspot, Mr. Raynaud assumes that the brilliance of the solar surface does not greatly exceed the brightest incandescence of the most refractory bodies obtained by means of the electric current. Nor is the heat so great as many solar physicists assume. From his own observations of the sun's heat cannot exceed 10,000 degrees C.—a very high temperature, it must be admitted, but still falling far below that assumed by other astronomers.

Becher on His Own Career.

Hardly anything that could be desired in this life has been withheld from me. I have had time which many covet and seek for vain; my life all through has been a very happy one; it may be said, without exception, taking it from beginning to end, to have been a life of extraordinary prosperity and happiness, although I have been a man of war. But there is nothing in this world, it seems to me, that is to be desired for one single moment in comparison with the life beyond. If that life is all that we have been taught it is—and I believe it to be that—and abundantly more—then let us man wish to stay here. It is true that the sting of our and another leaves a wound in the heart of those that are left behind, but it is true, also, that God heals such wounds speedily.—"Mr. Becher's Unprinted Words" in Ladies' Home Journal.

Chicagans Believe in Their City.

One of the chief factors to the greatness of Chicago is the unwavering and active loyalty of her citizens. On all occasions, in season and out of season, the Chicago man slugs the back of his city. Let any man go there to remain, and he becomes imbued with this progressive spirit and is as bold and persistent as the Chicago redoubt in slugging the back of his home city.—Kansas City Journal.

WILL THE FIGHT OCCUR?
The Club Says It Will and the Governor is Very Quiet.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 5.—The fight situation here is practically unchanged. The club says it is to come off, that their lawyers tell them to go ahead, as the legal status is all right, and that no Florida statutes exist to prevent it.

On the other hand, Sheriff Broward says that he will under his present orders prevent any such gathering, if public, though he confesses his inability to prevent it, he held in secret, or if held on a boat in St. John's river or in the woods he perhaps could not stop it.

Governor Mitchell is very quiet at present and friends of the club say that great pressure, political and otherwise, is being brought to bear on him to "let up."

A Destructive Fire.
WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 5.—Fire this morning destroyed the R. C. Taylor block, which was occupied mainly by Clark, Sawyer & Co., dealers in crockery, glassware, etc., whose loss is about $80,000 covered by insurance. There is an insurance of $7,500 on the building. The other tenants sustained small losses. Most of the stock was unharmed.

Very Cold Weather.
LONDON, Jan. 5.—The extremely cold weather now prevailing has delayed the mails in the north of England. A mail cart running between Stamford, Lincolnshire and Peterboro, Northamptonshire, had not yet arrived at the latter place. It is thirteen hours overdue. At Spalding, Lincolnshire, a laborer named Smith has been found frozen to death.

Sixth District Sentiment.

According to a Washington dispatch to the Minneapolis Tribune, Maj. Baldwin "says The Duluth Herald, though Democratic is controlled by iron mine speculators and so does not represent the interests of the people of the Sixth district." This is the major's answer to The Herald's arguments against free iron ore and its criticisms upon the course that he is pursuing. It is a feeble and impotent reply and shows the utter weakness of his position. Furthermore, it is absolutely and unqualifiedly untrue and exposes the major to the charge of deliberately misrepresenting The Herald.

In the first place this paper is not Democratic and has never claimed to be.
Maj. Baldwin knows that it is not.
It gave him cheerful and unswerving support during his campaign for congress, because it is as well as many others who are not Democrats believed that it would be to the advantage of this city to have a Duluth man in congress and because he, who had never during his residence shown himself to be a bitter partisan, promised both privately and publicly to vote for no measure that would unfavorably affect the interests of Duluth. How faithfully he kept that promise the people of Duluth, whom he is now misrepresenting on the iron ore question, are fully competent to judge, and they will no doubt express their opinion at the proper time and in an effective manner.

The assertion that The Herald is "controlled by iron mine speculators" is also wide of truth. Such an assertion is always the result of those who are worsted in argument and are placed in a tight place. The Herald has experienced this style of "argument" before and is able to estimate its full strength and effect.
It is similar to the reckless claim of some people who, when this paper has protested against piling up the city's debt and increasing its fixed annual charges at a time when the whole country is suffering from commercial and financial depression and economy is being practiced everywhere, assert that The Herald is "under the grasp of a monopoly," etc.

One assertion is as false as the other.
But this is not all. Maj. Baldwin asserts that upon the iron ore question The Herald does not represent the interests of the people of the Sixth district.
Ergo, he does represent their interests when he favors placing iron ore on the free list. The Herald has not heard of a Republican in this district who favors free ore. The Sixth district is nominally Republican. Maj. Baldwin carried it by the aid of Republican voters who supported him because he was a Duluth man and for other personal reasons. Without their aid he would have been defeated. The Sixth district Republicans believe in protecting home industries and therefore favor the retention of the duty of 75 cents a ton on iron ore. The Democrats, in Duluth at least, are divided upon this question.

How then can Maj. Baldwin truthfully assert that in opposing free ore The Herald does not represent the views of the people? Certainly it represents the views of the majority, and it has generally been supposed that it was a cardinal principle of the Democracy that the majority shall rule. In voting for free ore, he himself will represent the views of a small minority of his constituents.

The New York Canals.
The extract from the message of Governor Flower of New York, published yesterday, which dealt particularly with the plans for increasing the capacity of the state canal system, must have been read with pleasure by all who take an interest in the improvement of the waterway from Duluth to the Atlantic. This portion of the message shows that New York's chief executive is fully alive to the necessity of providing improved facilities for handling the trade of the great lakes that is transferred at Buffalo, and it gives additional hope that the

New York legislature will provide sufficient funds to carry out the plans that have been suggested.

The recent canal conference in New York city has been instrumental in awakening public sentiment on the question, and the legislature may probably be depended upon to vote sufficient money to carry out the Seymour plan of lengthened locks, vertical walls and removal of the silt from the prism, which it is believed will give the maximum of efficiency for the minimum of expenditure.

The committee on canals of the New York produce exchange has created a bureau for the express purpose "of gathering information as to any regulation, rule or practice of a character tending in any way to increase the cost of working traffic on the canals, impede the same, or in a general way to impose unnecessary burdens or restrictions on the free and proper use of the canals by boatmen." The committee says:
"It is proper to state that the physical deficiencies of the Erie canal with respect to free waterway and lockage are sufficiently well understood, and that any statements regarding those general features will be unnecessary, but information respecting such or any other like deficiency in special localities will be in order. The design being to subserve the interests of those to whom this circle is addressed through the accumulation of well-authenticated information as above, and its proper presentation in the proper quarter at the proper time, it is hoped that the earnest cooperation of those concerned will be secured."

The prospect is bright, therefore, that the early future may see extensive improvements made in the New York canal system.

Galusha A. Grow, who has been nominated by the Republicans of Pennsylvania as congressman-at-large to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Gen.
Lilly, has a splendid record as a public man. Although he has been in private life for thirty years he is one of the really great men of this country today, and although almost a patriarch in years, he is active and in full possession of his faculties and as able as in his younger days to take a leading part in the work of congress.

One of the few historic characters yet left from the civil war period, ex-Speaker Grow is a unique character in politics and has had a remarkable career. He was elected to the popular branch of congress in 1850, when but 26 years old, as the result of the Wilmost dispute in the Bradford and Susquehanna district, which was then largely Democratic, with revolutionary free soil variations. Entering congress in the following year, he at once took a prominent part in the debates, his first speech being in support of a resolution to grant the use of the hall of the house of representatives to the Hungarian patriot, Louis Kossuth, who, by the way, is still living in his 93d year. This first speech was entirely impromptu, and was in reply to a Southern member who had opposed the resolution. Afterwards Mr.
Grow vigorously advocated the homestead bill, of which measure he is the real father. He participated actively in all the stirring debates which preceded the breaking out of the civil war. In one of these debates his courage was suddenly tested and it was never afterwards questioned. He was continuously returned to congress for twelve years, and when the special session of the Thirty-seventh congress was called by President Lincoln to meet on July 4, 1861, so high was his standing among his Republican colleagues that he was chosen speaker of the house, which position he filled with great credit until his retirement from congress on March 4, 1863.

His retirement was due to his defeat for re-election, owing to a reorganization of the congressional district, and he never became a candidate again. In 1876 President Grant offered him the mission to Russia, but this honor he declined. Since 1863, Mr. Grow has been engaged in business pursuits, but always taking an active part in national and state politics, and at one time his name was prominently mentioned in connection with the chairmanship of the Republican national convention held at Minneapolis. His election is certain, and he will be a tower of strength to the Republican minority in congress.

The five young men who went on a slumming tour in Hartford, accompanied by their spiritual adviser, with the idea of reforming fallen women, and were arrested by the police in company with the inmates of a disreputable house, would do well to secure another adviser at once. Their present leader in this work may have splendid intentions, but he has started in the wrong way to work a reformation. Slumming injures the slummers, and benefits no one.

Mr. Bellamy's paper, the New Nation, has a novel scheme for relieving the unemployed. It wants state legislatures to start the unemployed in the business of supplying each other's wants. Unemployed, it says, "must be so organized as to their employment that they shall by their various products support one another, completing within their own class the circle of production and consumption."

Louisville can boast of the strangest boycott on record. A lawyer, who had had a bill already pending for two years, applied to an undertaker to have his wife buried. The undertaker not only refused, but, notifying the rest of that guild, the lawyer was obliged to apply to the city undertaker, who supplied a pauper's coffin, being unable to get a better one from the union.

The members of the legislature, including our own Mr. Boggs, against whom Manager Rhodes of the coal combine has secured a judgment of $3500 for damages, will not have to pay it out of their own pockets. The last legislature, anticipating such a result, made an appropriation to protect its members whose bold action resulted in the ex-posure of the combine.

The Corbett-Mitchell fight will certainly take place in Florida on Jan. 25.
The governor of Florida declares that he will not permit the Corbett-Mitchell fight to take place in the state even if he has to call out the militia. These are statements that are alternately sent out from Jacksonville. It is a great harvest for the local correspondents.

The height of theatrical realism has been reached in Philadelphia. A pastoral melodrama is about to be produced there in which 300 live ducks, geese and chickens are to be placed on the stage, being brought from Gen. Fisher's famous chicken ranch at Valley Forge.

Who for Congress?

Millie Lacs County Times: Candidates for congress of whom must be sloughered at the conventions, are having their little boomlets sprung. The fantastical editor of the Delano Gazette, is haunted with the idea that Senator A. Y.
Eaton may be a candidate for congress.
The friends of ex-Speaker W. E. Lee are said to be carefully grooming him to make the race. The name of C. H.
Graves has a pleasant and familiar sound. And then again it might be suggested that St. Louis county Republicans may take more kindly to the name of Searle, when a brilliant lawyer by that name, who stands high in the party and profession, has become a citizen of Duluth. The Sixth district is a large one and when carefully looked over, it will not be found wanting for good congressional timber.

Prominent Citizens Not Exempt.

St. Joseph News: About $400 to pay claims aggregating $250,000 is what the receiver of the Guarantee Investment company found at Chicago. Among the names of the patrons of the concern were found those of very prominent citizens, which shows that prominent citizens can make fools of themselves just as easy as common people.

At the Wrong Time.

Philadelphia Times: The great scholarship was presented to A. A. McLeod has projected are likely to be carried out some day, because they are in the direction of natural railroad development. It is a pity that the project is a large one
and when carefully looked over, it will not be found wanting for good congressional timber.

The Deadly Ohio Man.

Kansas City Star: The story that an Ohio man made an attempt to kidnap a Pittsburgh millionaire lacks plausibility in view of the fact that the millionaire is still on deck. When an Ohio man makes a play for a stake of that magnitude he never gets left.

He Has to Get Rid of Them.

Washington Post: Mr. Bissell continues to advertise one of the unpopular features of the Harrison administration by conducting a forced sale of the Columbian stamps.

No Business Here.

Chicago Dispatch: A man without Proceedings Dismissed.

Manager A. C. Weiss, of The Herald, returned this morning from Grand Rapids, where he was called by reason of criminal libel proceedings started by County Attorney Pratt on account of a new article recently published in this paper. The proceedings against Mr. Weiss and The Herald were dismissed by consent of Mr. Pratt, the report having been furnished this paper by a correspondent who was supposed to be reliable.

Will be Married Again.
James O. Rodney's recent matrimonial venture may have been a failure, but he is willing to try it over. Yesterday he secured a divorce. Today he took out a marriage license to wed Tillie Tolbert. Licenses were also issued to Wojtek Kurak and Stanislaw Kubicz, Adolph Johnson and Eva Carlotta Eskelsen.

Bad News in the Street.
Chief of Police Horgan called upon the board of public works this morning and gave notice that several annoying patches are on Grand avenue both sides of Oconto. They are caused by the unusual depth of the snow and not by depressions in the street. The board will see that the matter is remedied at once.

Alex Fraser's House Scorched.
About noon today the fire department was called out to the residence of Alex Fraser, 217 West Fourth street. A blaze had broken out and made some progress up the side of a chimney but was extinguished with only a nominal loss. The origin of the fire was uncertain. There was an insurance of $2500 in R. A. Tausig & Co.'s agency.

Professor Meier May Leave.
Professor Meier, of the City band, has gone to Minneapolis in response to a call from some people there who wish to engage him for the coming season.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Two Divorce Cases Were on the Calendar Again Today and Both Were Granted.

C. O. Blanchard Was Separated From Carrie Blanchard and Engsted Strom From Peter S. Strom.

The Court is Asked to Appoint a Receiver for the Rincate Fire Proofing Company.

Divorce cases again occupied a portion of the calendar of the district court today and each of the judges had one to hear. The defendants failed to appear in both cases. C. O. Blanchard was released from the ties which bound him to Carrie Blanchard. He charged her with unfaithfulness and produced letters in which she compromised herself and which seemed to be sufficient in Judge Lewis' mind to prove her a dissolute woman. The divorce was ordered. Judge Moer granted Engsted Strom a divorce from Peter S. Strom on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. After hearing her evidence one would wonder that she is alive. Her liege lord at times threatened her with an ax and other dangerous implements. He even went so far as to sleep with a knife under his pillow which he used to threaten her with, to her great terror.

In the case of Mary Musolf vs. John Musolf et al., a suit concerning some mortgages, Judge Moer overruled the demurrer and gave the defendant five days in which to answer. Before Judge Lewis the defendant in Nellie A. Windolf vs. S. G. Wightman et al., asked for a continuance but it was denied. The case was passed to the foot of the calendar as was also J. W. Reynolds vs. W. P. Strickland et al. Judgment was rendered for the plaintiff in Crowley Electric company vs. T. W. Abell et al., the defendant failing to appear.

The Selling of Cases.
The following setting of cases was made for next week:

Monday—108, 109, 112, 115, 116, 117, 120, 121, 122.
Tuesday—123, 125, 133, 137, 138, 153, 156, 166, 7, 20.
Wednesday—132, 135, 136, 143, 148, 110, 109, 39, 11, 47.
Thursday—152, 45, 29, 79, 90, 91, 56, 57, 27.

RECEIVER ASKED FOR.

Crane-Ordway Company Wants One For the Rincate Fire Proofing Company.

The Crane-Ordway company has begun an action against the Rincate Fire Proofing and Lake Superior Mineral, Paint, Oil and Color company et al., and its stockholders to compel the appointment of a receiver and the payment of all amounts due on the stock of the company. Judge Moer has made an order requiring the defendant to show cause tomorrow in the special term why a receiver should not be appointed. The plaintiff obtained judgment in the municipal court of Duluth against defendant for $228.31.

Judge Lewis has filed an order denying the plaintiff's motion to amend the findings of facts and conclusions of law in the case of W. J. Holmes vs. Lakeside Street Railway company.

A stipulation admitting judgment on Jan. 23 has been filed in the case of Charles F. Leland vs. Shaw Iron company et al.

Judge Lewis has handed down his decision in the case of Harriet and R. L. Wilkins. John H. Brigham et al. The suit involved the title to lot 37, on West Superior street in Duluth proper. First division. The plaintiff, Harriet Wilkins, is declared to be entitled to possession of the property on payment of the sum due on same to the defendant, Brigham, who is only the trustee for the plaintiff.

The evidence in the divorce case of Mabel Richmond vs. Robert Richmond, taken before W. G. Bonham, referee, at Tower has been filed in the clerk's office. It does not have the effect of giving a high opinion of the husband's morality.

Other papers filed today were: Mandate and transcript of judgment from supreme court in case Henry Nelson vs. Village of West Duluth; also same in case Elizabeth Janny vs. Duluth Street Railway company.

Acquitted by the Jury.
The district reestablished in yesterday's issue from the St. Paul Pioneer Press regarding a shooting affair near Carlton is misleading inasmuch as the man Haggard, who was accused of killing Frank Young, is no desperado but is well known in that vicinity as an honest working man and was acquitted by the corner's jury on a careful investigation of the facts. It was clearly accidental shooting.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; it does not cure deafness caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Dr. J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Send for circular.

GIVES HIS OPINION.

E. C. Gridley Thinks the Iron Ore Duty is Not a Protective One.

E. C. Gridley, in reply to the question, "By those who opposed the late meeting it is being asserted that the gentlemen who signed the call are protection Democrats. Is that imputation a correct one?" said:

"While I have every reason to believe that the political faith of the gentlemen who joined with me in that call is practically the same as my own, I would not undertake to speak for anybody but myself. To answer the question as regards myself I would say that I believe that as far as from being a protectionist and as diametrically opposed to the idea of protection as any Democrat in Duluth. We have simply asked for the retention of the duty on iron ore."

"Is the present duty on iron ore a protective duty, in the sense that the Democrats oppose protection?" was asked. "If it were to any extent whatever I would favor a reduction to a point where it would not be protective. My definition of a protective tariff is this: It is a tariff that results in giving a special advantage to a certain business or to a certain class of people, and results through that in making it compulsory upon the purchaser and consumer of any article so levied on to pay extra therefor, over and above what they would be compelled to pay, but for the tariff."

"In the case of the present duty on iron ore, I maintain that notwithstanding the present duty on foreign ores, that iron ore for the last two or three years has paid no profit whatever to the producer. Sales during that time have universally been made to the consumers of ore from compulsion to realize, and almost without exception at a loss to the producers of the ore. If there would have been no duty whatever on iron ore for that time, the conditions up to this date would not have been materially affected, but continued from this time forward, free ore must soon result in stimulating large furnaces and manufacturing interests on the Atlantic seaboard. The result to the American business of this could not possibly be to lower the price of the product, because the foreign mines worked could not furnish but a small fraction of the American demand, but would result for the next two or three years in largely disarranging business matters regarding iron ore and its products and still further depress a business that is at the foundation second only to agriculture of all the business interests of this country, and that at these times would be a loss to the government duties on ore and resulting in no benefit whatever to the consumer or to any class of our people."

"Hence, my conclusion is this: The present duty is not protective, and my objection to the removal of it is that it would seriously interfere with business interests, at a loss to the government and without any resulting advantages whatever to anyone in this country."

MEALS FOR THE HUNGRY.

Charitably Disposed People Should Distribute Bethel Meal Tickets.

The executive committee of the Bethel would like to state that they have issued 6 and 9 cent meal tickets. These tickets will be on sale, up town, at the Duluth paper company's store; so that all persons who are charitably disposed towards the numerous callers who apply at their residences for tickets, can purchase these tickets, give them out instead of giving money.

Applying to their kitchens to feed them. Or better still, they can purchase these tickets and place them in the hands of the numerous callers who apply at their residences for tickets, who have means of finding out the really needy, and who are careful to look up every case who applies to him for food, and give only where aid is actually needed.

Or these tickets can be purchased and placed in the hands of any other charitable society, such as the Ladies Relief society, or the Associated Charities, who are careful to look into every case of persons applying for aid.

Any one who will give a person a ticket in this direction they feel that they should not be called upon to do so. Indeed it must appear plain to every one, considering the season, that they can not give free meals without endangering the restaurant enterprise, thus closing to all the help they are now extending. A man will give a person pork and beans, bread and butter enough to satisfy the largest appetite. A 9-cent meal gives roast beef, potatoes, bread and butter. A 12-cent meal gives meat, potatoes, bread and butter, coffee, tea or milk. Thus a man can take his three meals a day for 18 cents and get all that he requires. He would not be badly off at a cost of 12 cents per day. The committee would be most glad of the assistance of all in this direction, so that they will not be under the painful necessity of turning away any really hungry person, and there are many such constantly applying to them.

FORGING THE LINKS FAST.

Dan Coughlin and the White Horse Brought Very Close.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Dan Coughlin and the white horse which conveyed the murdered Cronin from the Conklin residence to the Carlson cottage were brought dangerously close together at the trial this morning. Mrs. Patrick Dinan, arrayed in widow's garb sat in the witness chair and told the court and jury what she saw and heard in her husband's stable the night of May 4, 1886.

"I went down stairs about 7 o'clock," testified Mrs. Dinan, "and in the stable I saw two rigs, one white horse, which my husband told me was rented to Dan Coughlin for a friend, and the other a sorrel, which I understood was rented to Thomas Jones. The man talking to my husband was excited. He talked fast and seemed to be in a great hurry. He insisted that the curtains be put on the side of the buggy. The man drove north on Clark street, leaving the stable. I was standing at the window of the living room above, overlooking the entrance to the stable."

Large Amount Due on Bonds Received by Ex-Treasurer Johnson Yesterday and Some Paid Out.

Treasurer Voss and Attorney Greene Claim That Mr. Johnson Had No Right to Receive It.

What the Outcome Will be Remains to be Seen—Saloons to be Closed Tomorrow.

A complication of affairs has arisen at West Duluth. Yesterday $140,000 arrived, the amount remaining due on street improvement bonds at the time of consolidation with Duluth. The money was turned over to C. A. Johnson, formerly treasurer of the village, and he paid out yesterday and today about $60,000. This morning City Treasurer Fred Voss, of Duluth, and City Attorney Greene came down to get the money and claimed that Mr. Johnson had no right to receive the money or pay any out. What the outcome of the matter will be and how it will be adjusted remains to be seen.

Will Close the Saloons. In accordance with orders from headquarters, Lieutenant Patterson will instruct all patrolmen to see that the saloons are closed tonight at 11 o'clock and all day tomorrow and that hereafter the letter of the law be complied with.

Cut in Wages. All wages on the Duluth & Iron Range will be cut next week. It is said that the cut will amount to 10 per cent although this is denied by Auditor Viele, who said today: "I cannot tell you the percentage of cut in wages, but the reduction is not uniform in all grades. A cut in wages, however, is to be made."

A New Enterprise. "The Manhattan Wine House" is the name of the new liquor store and saloon to be opened about Jan. 10, by J. D. Zien & Co., in the Haug block on Superior street, the premises formerly occupied by the California Wine house. LARGEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH.

Entered at the postoffice at Duluth, Minn., as second-class mail matter.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Jan. 6.—A disturbance of slight energy is central this morning over Southern Lake Michigan. It has caused light snow over the lake regions, the Middle and Upper Mississippi and Ohio valleys, since yesterday. The temperature is below zero in the western portions of Iowa, Minnesota and Kansas, and from 10 to 25 degrees below zero in the Upper Missouri valley.
From Northern Kansas to Missouri, there has been a fall in temperature of 20 degrees or more since yesterday morning.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 14 degrees above zero; maximum yesterday, 30 degrees above; minimum for twenty-four hours, 10 degrees above zero.

Duluth, Jan. 6.—Local forecast until 8 p. m. tomorrow: Snow; colder; winds becoming northwesterly.

The Pioneer Fuel company sells the best grades of coal, and at the low prices now in effect give liberal discounts for cash and make prompt deliveries. Office, 230 West Superior street.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Forecast until 8 p. m. tomorrow: For Minnesota: Fair, colder; southerly variable winds. For Wisconsin: Snow drifts, followed Sunday by fair; decidedly colder; winds shifting to westerly.

Will Benefit Duluth.

The launching at Cleveland today of the steel steamship, North West, the first of the passenger boats for the Northern Steamship company that will run next season between Duluth and Buffalo, is an event of much importance to Duluth.
This fleet of superbly appointed vessels will revolutionize the passenger business on the great lakes, and that there is room for a great improvement will be admitted by all who are acquainted with the existing conditions.

With the establishment of this first-class service the tide of travel to and through Duluth will be greatly increased.
The advantages of Duluth as a summer resort will become known to many who now know nothing of the beauties of our climate during the summer months, when clear skies, bright sunshine and tempering breezes from the bosom of Lake Superior produce a combination excellent at no other point in the world. In past years the inadequate accommodations for passengers on lake boats have kept many people away, who with elegantly furnished and swift boats would be glad to make the beautiful trip by water from Duluth to Buffalo. Duluth may therefore look forward to seeing many tourists next summer.

When the tide of summer travel is well started in this direction, it will increase very rapidly. People who have once tasted the delights of a Duluth summer will be anxious to return, and they will bring their friends with them, especially when they can make the lake trip in such handsome vessels as will compose this new fleet.

Their First Duty.

Representative Tim Campbell, of New York City says, in speaking of the Wilson bill, that he thinks his first duty is to his constituents, and he adds that his constituents have been sending to him a great many protests against the new tariff act. Mr. Campbell is a Tammany Democrat.

Representative Haines, of New York has announced his uncompromising opposition to the bill, because his constituents are against it. Senator Murphy, of New York, sent word to a meeting at his home which passed resolutions against some features of the bill that they could count upon his support. There are many other instances of a similar character.

These men rightly assume that their first duty is to their own constituents.
They were sent to congress to represent the views of the majority of the people in their districts. While they are expected to take a broad view and vote for what is best for the whole country, yet that does not necessarily tariff bill that will be particularly injurious to their own districts. Yet this is what Maj. Baldwin proposes to do with regard to free iron ore.

The removal of the duty on ore will injure the Minnesota iron ranges, and the majority of the people of the Sixth district oppose its removal. If Maj.
Baldwin performed his duty to his constituents, which should be his first duty, he would work and vote against the removal of the duty.

No State Elevator.

The decision of the supreme court in the state elevator case, published exclusively in The Herald last evening, is that the act passed by the last legislature is unconstitutional. While Duluth would have been pleased to see another grain elevator erected here, few people in this city had any idea that the law would be sustained by the supreme court.

The doctrine that the state could engage in the grain business was deemed unsound by those who had given the subject careful consideration. It would hardly be contended by anyone that the state could enter into the dry goods or grocery or hardware business, and if it could not engage in these lines how could it constitutionally enter into the grain trade?

The act which sought to give authority for the erection and operation of the elevator was manifestly unconstitutional. It was a gross assumption of power that the legislature did not possess, and at the time of the passage of the bill much surprise was expressed that Republicans and Democrats would vote for a measure of that character. The Populists voted for it because legislation of this character is part of their creed.

The decision in this case will also put a quietus upon many other impracticable demands that have been evolved in the Populist camp.

A peculiar fight is going on in San Francisco between thirty insurance companies and wholesale merchants. Four months ago Buyer & Rich, wholesalers of woolen and ladies' furnishings, were burned out. The firm claimed a loss of $300,000. The underwriters refused to pay the losses, and the fire marshal preferred a charge of incendiarism. This charge was so well combated that no criminal action was taken, and several of the interested insurance companies finally paid the losses. Thirty companies, whose risks aggregated $137,000, held out, however. Other wholesale merchants have now taken up the fight of the accused firm and are waging war against the companies which refused to make good Buyer & Rich's insurance. It is stated that over $500,000 of risks in the thirty companies involved have been cancelled.

Mayor Hopkins, the new Democratic executive of Chicago, is winning praise from all quarters, even from the intensely partisan Inter Ocean, for the efficiency of his appointments. Harry Rubens, the new corporation counsel, and W. K. Ackerman, the new comptroller, are admitted to be splendid men for the positions they will occupy.

The holiday number of the Minnesota Horseman, published at Minneapolis, presents a handsome appearance and is highly creditable in every way to its editor and manager, R. F. Jones, who is one of the best known horsemen in the country. The Minnesota Horseman looks prosperous and The Herald is pleased to see that Mr. Jones is meeting with success.

In view of Manager Rhodes of the comb combine, securing a verdict of $3500 for damages against the committee that conducted the investigation into the combine, the Chicago Times thinks that the Minnesota legislature must feel like the chap that let the Djinn out of the bottle in the "Arabian Nights."

An Indianapolis dispatch reports that Manager Leavitt, of Cincinnati, attached the box office receipts of the theater where Mlle. Rhea was playing, because she broke a contract with his Denver house. What an exciting scene there must have been when Rhea learned of this act.

A reduced uniform rate of commissions to agents is among the impending reforms which, it is said, has been practically decided upon among the managers of the principal life insurance offices as a New Year beginning.

Chauncey M. Depew was much surprised when he was compelled to pay his railroad fare while traveling in Europe.
The railway presidents must pay their fare like other people. It is different on this side of the pond.

L. F. Leland, of Boston, the inventor of the deadly "lying wedge" in football, never played a game of football in his life. He is not anxious to play either, in view of the danger of losing his life or being permanently crippled.

The rules under which Speaker Reed counted a quorum, when representatives were actually present and refused to vote for filibustering purposes, would be very convenient for Speaker Crisp's use at present.

The Democratic caucus at Washington last night on the tariff bill settled nothing.
Over fifty Democrats failed to attend. Another caucus will probably be held at an early date.

About $25,000 was taken in at the recent bicycle tournament in New York.
Some people must have plenty of money to spare for amusement, even if times are hard.

A Castle Burned.

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—The old ducal castle at Bernburg in Anhalt has been completely destroyed by fire. Herr Hage-man, the district director, and a coachman, who were asleep in the castle, were burned to death. A number of public documents and the local funds which were kept in the building were destroyed.

Hard Times in Canada.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 6.—The "hard times" have struck Halifax at last and some of the largest industries in the city have closed down for lack of orders.
These include Taylor's shoe factory, Gordon & Keith's and Stephens' furniture factories and Dempster's planing mill, where between 300 and 400 men were employed.

Cold in Ireland.

BELFAST, Jan. 6.—In the Newry district the thermometer registers 24 degrees above zero. Many sheep and cattle have been frozen to death. There has been a heavy snowfall and all traffic is impeded. All the Irish channel steamers are late.

The joints and muscles are so lubri-cated by Hood's Sarsaparilla that all rheumatism and stiffness soon disappears. Get only Hood's.

A NEW WORLD.

So It Appeared to One Man at Least.

If You Desire a Similar Experience Read This.

You Have But to Follow a Wise Man's Example, Why Hesitate?

A new world! Yes, and right in our midst. No brighter and more beautiful existence could be imagined than that which suddenly dawned upon Mr. Joseph A. Calback, of 224 Maple avenue, Harford, Conn., who after years of suffering in the gloom and despondency of a clouded life, suddenly threw off the mantle of despair and saw indeed a new and beautiful light.

And what did it?

Read Mr. Calback's own words:

"I was very nervous, despondent, tired out, always sleepy and had nervous prostration."

"I would have to leave my work and go home, would lose half my night's rest and had everything to make me feel badly."

"After using four or five bottles of Dr.
Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I began to feel better and after a few months I was a new man."

MR. JOSEPH A. CALBACK.

"I take great pleasure in stating that this remedy is the finest and best nerve medicine that I have ever taken and I advise anyone suffering from nervous diseases or nervous prostration to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, the best medicine ever discovered."

It is easy to imagine the happiness and contentment experienced by Mr.
Calback, who after suffering from the agony of nervous prostration, being unable to sleep or work much of the time, was suddenly restored to sound and vigorous health, able once more to take his place among his fellow men and enjoy life to its fullest extent.

What sufferer would not employ any means to pass through such a change.
We cannot but believe that all who are sick, all who are suffering from any of those nervous or chronic complaints which make life miserable by constant agony, either in mind or body, will immediately procure this valuable remedy and be restored to health.

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy will do for you all that it has done for Mr. Calback.

Have you weak nerves, bad blood, nervous prostration, indigestion? Then take this discovery of the great specialist, Dr. Greene, and it will build up your nervous system, invigorate the blood and strengthen the digestive organs, thus enabling you to look at life as indeed another existence. Take it in the early stage of the disease when the symptoms first appear; if the complaint has become chronic, do not delay longer.

Dr. Greene can be consulted at his office, 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, free, personally or by letter.

Sick Headache

21 Years of Suffering Ended by One Bottle of HOOD'S.

Mrs. Ed. Swan, Duquoin, Ill.

"Few people have suffered as much as I have with sick headache. I have had it by spells for 21 years, sometimes as often as

Three Times a Week.
I would get up with it, suffer all day, go to bed with it and have it all night. I tried everything that was recommended, but never was cured until about a year ago, when

My Mother-in-Law persuaded me to try one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am glad to say that it cured me, and I have not had sick headache since I took the first bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has done me a great deal of good in other ways, and has increased my weight from 120 to 147 pounds. I cannot praise Hood's Sarsaparilla enough." MRS. ED. SWAN, Duquoin, Ill.

New Year's Week One of the Most Brilliant Socially in the History of Duluth.

Reception and Dance at the Markell Residence on New Year's—Dr. and Mrs. Phalen's Party.

Miss Elizabeth and Herbert Spencer's Dancing Party Tuesday Evening—Miss Blanche Howe's Party.

New Year's receptions and dances were all the go this week and Duluth has never known a more brilliant week socially. Young and old alike were entertained and entertained others in turn. They were not all confined to New Year's day either but extended over the entire week. Some of the affairs were quite elaborate. Sleight parties also were numerous given and delightful little dances followed them in nearly every case. Several masquerade parties were given and were so popular that more of them are being planned.

Two dancing parties were given for the younger people during the week and both were stylish and fashionable affairs fully as much so as any of those given by the older people.

YOUNG LADIES RECEIVED.

New Years Reception and Ball Given at the Markell Residence.

The reception and ball given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Markell, No. 326 East Second street, on New Year's evening inaugurated the new year in a brilliant manner. Nine young ladies received, Misses Markell, Upham, Simonds, Gertrude, Markell, Miller, Sharp, Magoffin, O'Keefe and Collins. The house was decorated in a dainty and artistic manner with lights and flowers. The ladies were all handsomely gowned and the entire affair was in every way charming and delightful.

The refreshment table was very pretty being decorated with red ribbons, red candles, red candy and holly. Mrs. O. H. Simonds and Mrs. J. H. Upham served the refreshments. A CHARMING AFFAIR.

Miss Elizabeth and Herbert Spencer Give a Dancing Party.

Miss Elizabeth Spencer and Herbert Spencer gave a dancing party on Tuesday evening at the new residence of George Spencer on East Third street, which was one of the most charming entertainments given by the younger society people this winter. The house was decorated with smilax and flowers and the light effects were dazzling. The dancing hall, used for the first time, was the delight of all the young people. Among those present were: Misses Bull, Sinclair, La Vaquer, Edwards, Peyton, McLean, Hirsch, Chapin, Ames, White, Ingalls, Woodbridge, Frazer, Strayer and Simonds and Messrs. Jacobi, Cook, E. Prescott, Burbank, S. Prescott, D. McLennan, Eaton, Leach, W. McLennan, Geggie, Gearheart, Ames, Phillips, Matlocks and Pickens.

RECEIVED ON NEW YEARS.

Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations Entertained Their Friends.

The joint reception by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations at the Y. M. C. A. was one of the most entertaining of the New Year's events. The reception rooms were prettily decorated. The guests were received by Misses Palmer, Twomey, Gray, Matlocks, Marvin, Mrs. J. E. Wieland and Messrs. Black and Upham. Misses Todd and Agnes Noyes presided gracefully over the punch tables.

The day's program was a varied one, beginning at 3 o'clock with music and continuing on through the afternoon and evening with readings, recitations and conversation. The music was especially good. Miss Comstock and C. J. Hunt sang "Jesus Savior of My Soul." Miss Comstock sang a solo which received a double encore. Mr. Hunt sang "All Love Jack." Miss Hurd gave recitations. Wind also Miss Mac Walker, who recited "Little Rocket's Christmas." A. F. M. Custance also sang and was heartily encored. Misses Longman and Comstock sang "Vesper Hymn." The singing of the Adelpi quartet—Miss Florence Williams, soprano; Miss Ella Woodward, alto; A. H. Brockhurst, tenor, and Henry Brearly, basso—was a particular feature. The accompanists were Mrs. John Loman and Professor A. F. M. Custance.

A DANCING PARTY.

A Company of Young People Entertained by Miss Blanche Howe.

Miss Blanche Howe gave a dancing party at her home, 142 East Superior street, last evening at which about thirty young people were present. The house was decorated in an artistic manner with cut flowers and smilax and looked very pretty. The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Howe and Miss Howe. The young people danced long and merrily and were delightfully entertained. The refreshments were delicious. Among those present were: Misses Ingalls, White, LaVaquer, Bull, Graff, Chapin, Magoffin, Fitzgerald, Peyton, McLean, Waugh, Misher, Edwards, Frazer, Messrs. Geggie, D. McLennan, Eaton, C. McCormick, Thomson, Leach, Phillips, H. Peyton, Watrous, E. Prescott, S. Prescott, Cash, Bailey and Misher.

New Year's Day Reception.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Upham received on New Year's day at the Woodbridge residence on West Third street. Mr. and Mrs. Upham and Miss Lydia Woodbridge received the guests in the main parlors. The house was daintily decorated and soft strains from a mandolin orchestra floated through the rooms. The refreshment table was in charge of Mrs. E. W. Markell and Mrs. Thomas Dowse. A large number of friends called during the day.

Christmas Tree Party.

A Christmas tree party given on Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thompson and Mrs. A. G. Strong was one of the most unique and entertaining affairs of the week. A tree was gaily decorated and each of the guests brought presents for their friends, it being stipulated that no gift should cost more than ten cents. Some very comical hits were made, for instance one young man received a heart with a dozen strings tied to it. The distribution of presents was very amusing and there was plenty of jollity and fun at each other's expense. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Leland, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. West, Mr. T. W. Hoopes, Mr. and Mrs. Pierce, Misses Leland, Poirier, Brown, Collins, Messrs. Leland, Coffin, Lander, W. McKinley and O. C. Hartman.

The Conundrum Supper.

The conundrum supper at the Congregational church last evening given by the "Friends in Council" was a highly entertaining affair. The menu was entirely in conundrums and the bewilderment of the people as they tried to order was amusing. A musical program was given in the evening. The Venetian mandolin club gave a number of selections and was well received. A string quartet gave selections also. Miss Comstock sang and also Miss McDonald. A piano solo was given by Miss Weismiller. Miss Hurd gave a recitation and Messrs. Winne and Huntley a duet for piano and flute.

DOCTOR SCHIFFMAN

Extracts the Worst Teeth Positively and Absolutely Without Pain.

No Chloroform and No Ether Used and Above All No Cocaine Used.

No Pain, No Danger No Bad Effects—400, 401 and 402 Woodbridge Bldg., 108 West Superior street.

Be Not Deceived, Beware of Imitators The Hale Method is Pre-eminent.

Do not confuse the method I use with the so-called system of injecting preparations into the gums. These are not more than cocaine preparations and are dangerous, causing blood poisoning and sloughing and cannot be condemned too strongly. Since teeth and roots, all kinds and in all conditions can be removed by my method without pain and with perfect safety, there is no excuse for injuring the health by retaining them.

Few people realize the dangers resulting from allowing diseased teeth to remain in the mouth. Under the microscope disease-breeding microbes or living germs are discovered in and around the roots of teeth, and these germs, if not removed, will cause more complications of wasting diseases than many people would suppose.

Note—The best artificial teeth are the cheapest; you throw away money on $5.00 and $8.00 sets if you get them.

From one to thirty teeth extracted in one and one-half minutes with my system, crown and bridge work another specialty. Read the following notice.

Dr. W. W. Schiffman, Duluth.—Dear Sir: The work you performed for my wife in pulling fourteen teeth in less than one minute and entirely without pain while the teeth were being extracted, confirms me in the belief that the Hale system is perfection itself.

Yours respectfully, R. STEWART, General Foreman B & B Dept, D & I R. R. Two Harbors.

Dec. 18, 1894.

In Torment.

Surely if there are any unhappy sufferers on earth upon whom the angels look down in pity it is people agonized with rheumatism. The year around with little or no respite. Now, there is no evidence to which publicity has been given in behalf of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters more convincing and convincing than that in behalf of its efficacy in incipient rheumatism. And since rheumatism and rheumatic simple gout are among the most obstinate complaints to which this admirable remedy is adapted, and since they all have a fatal tendency to attack the vital organs, the advisability of the early use of the bitters, when they manifest themselves, must be apparent. Efficacious, and most signally so, are the bitters, too, in malarial diseases, kidney and bladder inactivity, constipation, dyspepsia, liver complaint and nervous ailments.

THE NEW LITTLE PUCK

Frank Daniels Has Remodeled His Well Known Comedy and Will Produce It Tonight.

How Francis Wilson, the Comedian, Lives at His Handsome Home on Long Island Sound.

The popular comedian Frank Daniels will appear at the Temple tonight. He will present to his host of friend a scenic revival of his greatest success, "Little Puck." Everything in this laughter-producing comedy has been skillfully rearranged it is said. Mr. Daniels has also brightened up the dialogue, introducing odd and witty sayings, unique ideas and funny situations, and no player of the present time can be said to be so successful at this sort of work as is he. Frank Daniels is one of the leading men in his line, and always displays tact and good judgment by surrounding himself with clever support. Among the bevy of pretty girls, which are always seen in "Little Puck," Daniels has a new coster song this year, from the pen of Cavalier, the celebrated London music hall singer; it is called "My Old Dutch" and is said to be the best of the many clever songs made famous by that artist on the other side.

A ROMANTIC DRAMA.

"The Girl I Left Behind Me" is a curious title and nobody who has not read about the play would be able to guess its character. "The Girl I Left Behind Me" will be the attraction at the Temple Monday evening. It is a romantic drama—that is to say, a melodrama in the old and proper significance of the word. So many diverse elements were put into it—a love story, an Indian outbreak, a ball at an army outpost and other matters—that it was difficult to hit upon any satisfactory descriptive title. The authors, Helasco and Fyles, finished their work in every other detail, but for a month they dithered over the question of a name. No single word seemed adequate, nor could they devise any phrase that answered the purpose of indicating the character of the play. Incidental to one of the scenes the air of "The Girl I Left Behind Me" had been introduced. That touching tune had for many years been associated with military life. It is played in England invariably when British troops are sent on a campaign, and in this country it has become a favorite with army bands. Gen. Custer used to have it played frequently. So it was suggested that "The Girl I Left Behind Me" be taken for the title of the drama, not because any girl was left behind in the story, or because it described the piece in any way, but simply for the reason that it was not inappropriate, and in a breezy way it suggested the spirit of the play.

A COMEDIAN'S MANSION.

How Francis Wilson Lives at His Home in New Rochelle.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Jan. 8.—The theater in which Mr. Francis Wilson plays the role of husband and father is called "The Orchard." It is a big, rambling house, standing upon a rise of ground on tip-top, as it were, peering and squinting with its great glass eyes over the treetops at the landscape below. Long, where the comedian lives, in a quiet corner of quaint old New Rochelle, the famous comedian throws off the mask of the chattering and rollicking character he plays on the stage.

Here, in his real character—the serious and earnest scholar and philosopher. And he who seeks Mr. Wilson in his private life with the expectation of securing material for book of "gags" will be most agreeably disappointed. The exterior of the house is a delightful symposium of architectural afterthoughts, while inside it is a veritable museum containing a lavish profusion of precious relics gathered by the actor from many lands. In his "den" I found the Lion Tamer looking over a little stack of the latest books which had just arrived from the publishers.

The bookshelves in the "den" grow under accumulations of the finest editions of works in English, French and German, for their versatile owner has mastered other languages besides his own. A broad stained glass window mellows the light, and a caucasion window seat is smothered beneath a confusion of books and works of art representing the educational life of the actor.

One passenger at least never fails to perform when he is playing in New York. Here, in his quiet and scholarly retreat, when his neighbors sleep, the actor the coffee served with "two lumps," and then, drawing the student lamp nearer, drops back through the centuries to enjoy the companionship of his favorite Plato or of his beloved Homer. "Excuse me till I do," he says, "I am a student." Socially, however, Mr. Wilson is a bon vivant and a good story teller. A letter to him from Edwin Booth, expressing his stage work for his entire "freedom from effort," and the friends of the clever comedian know that he is as equally free from effort "off the stage." In all he does, there are a peculiar energy and a beguiling enthusiasm that are contagious. At home he is indeed a Merry Monarch, though he does

THE INDIANS BUNCOED.

How a Gang of Swindlers Went Through the Indian Country and the Indians.

Thousands of Dollars of Bogus Canadian Bank Bills Exchanged for Rich Packs of Fine Furs.

How the Glass Dollar Man Indulged the Indian's Preference for Hard Money Instead of Paper.

The manufacture of base coin and the passing of counterfeit money has probably been practiced ever since money was first used. There seems to be a fascination about the occupation which appears to be akin to the enthusiasm of the hunter or fisherman. Once engaged in the "coiner's" business, a man seldom quits it until it lands him in some secure retreat where the dogs are not likely to bite him for a long term of years at least.

The passing of counterfeit money is not by any means as scientific, so to speak, or as dangerous as coining. There are different modes of "smashing" base money and counterfeit notes, and the unwary, but probably the most unique manner in which this species of swindling was ever performed in the Northwest are those recounted below.

A number of years ago a bank in Upper Canada, called the Zimmerman bank, went to pieces. Its founder, an eminent civil engineer, was then an accident while engaged in superintending the construction of a bridge. His confidential man, who ran the bank for him, was put in charge of the assets and he, whether by accident or design, allowed a number of packages of unsigned bills of the bank of various denominations and amounting to a very large sum to go astray, to put it mildly. No one knows, even today, where these unsigned bills went to, but to this day a "Zimmerman" bill will occasionally make its unwelcome appearance.

It is difficult to pass these worthless bills among a civilized community, but in 1879 or thereabouts a bright idea occurred to a party of scamps into whose hands a batch of these had fallen. The Canadian Pacific railway, then in process of construction between Lake Superior and Manitoba. The line paralleled the water route used for centuries by the Indians and Hudson bay voyagers. Along this route in the spring would gather the Indians with their furs that they had obtained during their winter hunt, and there they would camp until the break up in the spring enabled them to go to the trading post at which they were outfitted for the winter.

Of course these facts were known to the Hudson bay traders and runners, and, as a result, frequent trips through this country, bidding for the furs, and in the case of the Hudson bay company, often seizing the furs from the Indians who owed them a big debt. The swindlers hired one or two Indian guides, dressed them in Indian garb, and, with a few dollars, they traveled fast. They had to. Away they went over the frozen lakes and rivers that extend for hundreds of miles between Fort William and the old Fort Chipewyan, and, with good Northern furs and leaving behind them a few cheap presents and a few dollars of bogus money, they returned to the defunct Zimmerman bank. The Indians imagined that the millennium had come. Five dollars for an ordinary lynx hide, or for a muskrat, or a pound of beaver, and their pay in the paper money of the great mother, Queen Victoria.

The Indians sold their furs to the haul the stolen furs, sold them to the traders, and when these divine visitors left the trappers they gathered around and tell of the amount of blankeets, whisky and other luxuries they would buy in the spring. But they had a cruel awakening when they reached the trading post, but it was too late. The swindlers had fled Winnipeg in safety, turning their furs into cash, and as may be supposed, the Indians were left with nothing but a few dollars of bogus money.

Another swindle was one by which the Indians between Fort Francis and Tower, were bamboozled out of their furs by a party of swindlers. The "glass" dollar, a piece of glass, was used in the swindle. When well made is a dandy and has deceived many a citizen. The process of making the "glass" dollar is simple. A dollar in silver means something tangible and no doubt in these times a dollar looks as big as the Ferris wheel to most of them. "Shunish" is the generic title in the Chippewa tongue for hard money and these coiners gave them all made good their escape, but not before they had brought we, despair and a feeling of dark revenge to many an innocent child of the forest and lake.

This base coin was made, it is said, not far from Tower. Some explorers found near what is now known as the Bracco farm on the river, indisputable traces of coining operations, but they lost not any coiners, were not looking for any, and with the reticence usual to men of their class they did not make known their discovery until too late to do any good, and so the matter dropped. Confederate bills have time and again been passed upon the Indians at the boundary, and they are very shy of money that has a brown tinge. When the Minnesota State National bank, now the First National, issued its first bills. They were brown colored, and the Indians were refused to accept them from the company's agents in pay for fish, canoes, wages, etc. They soon got bravely over that prejudice, however, when they found that the strange looking stuff would buy whisky as quick as any other, and that they would soon prefer these bills to the green ones. As a rule, however, they would always ask for the highly prized "shunish."

The manufacture of base coin and the passing of counterfeit money has probably been practiced ever since money was first used. There seems to be a fascination about the occupation which appears to be akin to the enthusiasm of the hunter or fisherman. Once engaged in the "coiner's" business, a man seldom quits it until it lands him in some secure retreat where the dogs are not likely to bite him for a long term of years at least.

The passing of counterfeit money is not by any means as scientific, so to speak, or as dangerous as coining. There are different modes of "smashing" base money and counterfeit notes, and the unwary, but probably the most unique manner in which this species of swindling was ever performed in the Northwest are those recounted below.

A number of years ago a bank in Upper Canada, called the Zimmerman bank, went to pieces. Its founder, an eminent civil engineer, was then an accident while engaged in superintending the construction of a bridge. His confidential man, who ran the bank for him, was put in charge of the assets and he, whether by accident or design, allowed a number of packages of unsigned bills of the bank of various denominations and amounting to a very large sum to go astray, to put it mildly. No one knows, even today, where these unsigned bills went to, but to this day a "Zimmerman" bill will occasionally make its unwelcome appearance.

It is difficult to pass these worthless bills among a civilized community, but in 1879 or thereabouts a bright idea occurred to a party of scamps into whose hands a batch of these had fallen. The Canadian Pacific railway, then in process of construction between Lake Superior and Manitoba. The line paralleled the water route used for centuries by the Indians and Hudson bay voyagers. Along this route in the spring would gather the Indians with their furs that they had obtained during their winter hunt, and there they would camp until the break up in the spring enabled them to go to the trading post at which they were outfitted for the winter.

Of course these facts were known to the Hudson bay traders and runners, and, as a result, frequent trips through this country, bidding for the furs, and in the case of the Hudson bay company, often seizing the furs from the Indians who owed them a big debt. The swindlers hired one or two Indian guides, dressed them in Indian garb, and, with a few dollars, they traveled fast. They had to. Away they went over the frozen lakes and rivers that extend for hundreds of miles between Fort William and the old Fort Chipewyan, and, with good Northern furs and leaving behind them a few cheap presents and a few dollars of bogus money, they returned to the defunct Zimmerman bank. The Indians imagined that the millennium had come.
